SAFETY IMPROVEMENTS at four Madison Avenue intersections got underway this week under the federal TOPICS (Traffic Operations Program for the Improvement of Capacity and Safety of Streets) as workers began cutting out curbs at 27th Street and Madison Avenue to widen the intersection. Operating the impactor is Frank Green, shown with Earl Anderson, both employees of C.D. Peters Construction Co. which holds a $316,000 state contract for the project. In addition to 27th street, intersection improvements are scheduled at 23rd and 20th streets and Niedringhaus Avenue.

SALVATION ARMY COMMUNITY CENTER to be erected here. The view is from Gary Lane northward, immediately east of Maryville Road across from Maryville Grade School. The construction project is to be financed by a capital campaign opening Sunday with an open house from 1 to 5 p.m. at the present Corps building, 19th Street and Grand Avenue.

Begin fund drive

The Salvation Army will conduct a capital fund drive for a minimum of $200,000, starting Sunday, in order to erect a Corps building and community center on Maryville Road, Chapter 4—Chairman Ralph Astorian announced today.

Open house will be held from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday at the present Salvation Army headquarters, 19th Street and Grand Avenue.

The public is being urged to attend the open house, and no reservation is necessary. Refreshments will be served.

Plans call for a steel-framed building, with access to off-street parking from Gary Lane. The site that has been provided is in the area of Maryville Grade School.

The existing Downtown building will remain in use as a center for community services, including the yearly Tree of Lights program.

A group of Quakers to conduct and lead the solicitation currently is being formed. A $30,000 contribution is being made by Granite City Steel.

Size of the new building will range from 12,000 to 19,000 square feet, depending on the amount of funds raised.

The new facilities will be available to pre-school children as a day care center, youths for supervised recreation, senior citizens for creative programs and organizations and residents for meetings and activities.

It is to include a large gymnasium and many meeting, game and club rooms.

Contributions will be tax deductible and can be paid over a period of three to five years, or by transfer of real estate or securities.

Appropriate permanent memorials will be designated at the community center in recognition of those aiding the financing.

Fatal electric shock during repair work

David H. Knight, 26, of 2575 Washington Ave., an electrician at the NL Industries (National Lead) Hoyt Plant died Tuesday afternoon shortly after suffering shock from a 440-volt electrical line.

Knight was taken by ambulance from the plant to St. Elizabeth Hospital at 2:40 p.m., and died at the hospital 3:30 p.m. There will be an inquiry.

A spokesman at the plant said officials there were unable immediately to determine how the accident happened but that an investigation is being made.

It is believed Mr. Knight was working on an electrical pump when the accident occurred, he said.

Born in Salem, Ill., Mr. Knight had resided in Granite City since 1966. He had been employed at NL Industries since October 1973, and was a member of Steelworkers Union, Local 6496.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Mary Knight, a daughter, Tina Knight, son Roger Ashby, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Knight of Granite City, one sister, Mrs. Terry (Sherri) Talley of Edwardsville; seven brothers, Michael, Donald,

Dies in accidental discharge of pistol

Jackie Byron Cox, 33, of 18 Catherine Drive, near Cahokia Mounds State Park, a former Granite City resident, was injured fatally when a gun he was cleaning discharged, the bullet striking near his heart, Monday night. He was declared dead on arrival at 8 p.m. Monday at Belleville Memorial Hospital.

Mr. Cox had been cleaning several guns and his fishing equipment in preparation for a hunting and fishing trip the next day, according to his family.

He told his wife, Floda, that a 22 caliber automatic pistol he was cleaning felt tight and asked if anyone had been looking at the guns.

She said he had removed the ammunition clip from the weapon, but apparently one bullet was in the chamber.

He reportedly turned the gun toward him to look at it when it discharged, the bullet striking his chest, Mrs. Cox said.

He said he, "I think the gun was loaded and I've shot myself." He held his hand to his chest and then fell forward, she said.

Showdown on coke pollution

Surprise was voiced by a Granite City Steel spokesman today in response to the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency's apparent decision to seek a showdown with the local plant regarding its coke operations.

GC Steel officers who went to Springfield Tuesday to present their air quality proposal for the next year said it was rejected immediately and without extensive study by Dr. John Roberts, EPA air pollution control manager, and Walter Franke, regional supervisor based in Collinsville.

The plan outlined calls for a new type of hood that would be utilized when coke is being pushed from ovens to cars to be transported to a quenching tower.

Franke told the Press-Record yesterday the EPA is convinced that the hood plan is inadequate and will recommend negotiation by the Illinois Pollution Control Board at a hearing here March 20.

Franke said the EPA will recommend that Granite City Steel buy and install a coke shed system developed by Great Lakes Carbon Corp. of St. Louis for its own use and now being made available to other firms.

He estimated the probable cost at $1,370,000, or $100,000 for each of the 137 coke ovens. This would provide not only a shed covering to trap particulates but also a new system of air scrubbers to eliminate emissions, Franke said.

Those at Springfield Tuesday included Dr. Donald Cairns, a GC Steel vice president; Dr. John Mandin, director of an environmental quality control at the local firm; and two attorneys.

The spokesman who commented today said there has been no formal presentation of the EPA recommendation to the company. He was critical of what he described as an apparent state wish to "let us read about it in the newspaper."

Franke said he can show no direct cause and effect but added that he is concerned about particulate averages of 202 at 2001 E. 50th St., 161 at 15th Madison Avenue and 137 at 21st Iowa Streets for 1973. Comparable 1972 figures were 205, 200 and 163 micrograms per cubic meter of air, he said.

A goal of 75 or less has been set for mid-1975, Franke related.

He said an existing agreement approved two years ago and to register an objection to the proposed increase.

The council went on record as being opposed to the showing the Venice Red Devils basketball team "has made this year."

We all wish them well and will be everywher they go to support this fine team. They are again putting Venice on the map," Patterson said.

Ground-breaking set for Venice Broadway project

Ground-breaking ceremonies to initiate construction of the Broadway relocation in Venice will be held at 10 a.m. Wednesday at a point near the completed underpass structure.

Acting Mayor Lloyd Patterson announced at the Venice City Council meeting Wednesday.

The project will relocate Broadway to connect with the underpass and with approaches to FA Route 151 (The Great River Road) which is to be extended from Niedringhaus Avenue in Granite City to Venice. The Broadway and underpass projects have been in the making for the past ten years.

The Council instructed City Clerk William "Mike" Eberstadt to reply to a letter announcing a 2 p.m. March 18 meeting in Springfield on a proposed water rate increase and to register an objection to the proposed increase.

Review sewer bills

The Street and Alley Committee of the Granite City Council is studying a series of claims for work on Nameoki area sewer break repairs by the Finis P. Ernest construction firm, and is scheduled to meet at 2 p.m. today in the company's East St. Louis office to inspect job records.

Decision to check the company records against log entries made by Casner Skubish, city inspector of sewer repairs, was reached in a meeting Tuesday morning between city officials and Richard Sage, vice president of the Ernest company, in the conference room of Mayor Paul Schuler at City Hall.

Emerald Daves, chairman of the Street and Alley Committee, said that without company records the meeting discussion was limited to generalities.

Attending, in addition to Sage and Daves, were Mayor Schuler, City Attorney George Pilcoff, Street Superintendent

Lionel Portell, City Clerk Robert Stevens and Aldermen Clyde Boyd and Claude Green, the other two members of the Street and Alley Committee.

Daves said the checkup will deal with charges made for dewatering and bypass pumping of sewage around sewer line breaks during repair work.

The company was given a contract by the city last July to repair a series of sewer breaks on a unit-price bid that was

Budget bulging

By HARRY BARNES
Press-Record Staff Writer

A tentative draft of Granite City's 1974-75 operating budget based on figures that could bring the new appropriation total well above the $6 million mark, was distributed to City Council members Monday night by the council's Finance Committee.

The budget total of $5,215,891, described as a "very rough estimate," was accompanied by a warning by Alderman Gerald Parmley, finance committee chairman, that "these figures are going to take a lot of cutting."

Parmley said the budget total was computed on salary figures of the current fiscal year and therefore does not include any salary raises or wages for newly created jobs resulting from the city's reorganization of the Police Department.

In addition, the committee chairman noted, the $5,215,891 listed in the tentative draft also does not include any part of the revenue sharing budget which will be figured later. Last year's budget for use of revenue sharing funds totaled $706,641.

The early budget estimate prepared by the finance committee and city finance officials set an estimated appropriation of $3,020,156 for operating expenses, listed the total payroll as $2,057,561 on the basis of the current cost, and included $137,362 for total employees' insurance.

According to Parmley, the insurance figure will remain unchanged because it is a fixed cost. The salary figure undoubtedly will increase, ROTARY CLUB'S 50TH ANNIVERSARY will be marked by Granite City Rotarians at a banquet Tuesday at Sunset Hills Country Club. The club was formed in March 1924. The photo shows yesterday's prayer breakfast, one of a monthly series sponsored by the club's Community Service Division headed by Bill H. Terrell.

Terrell is speaking and those at a nearby table are, clockwise from the left, Dr. George T. Wilkins Jr., State Rep. Robert Walters, N. P. Veeder, City Clerk Robert Stevens at the far end, Paul H. Lichtenberger, Venice Township Supervisor Christ Pashoff, Granite City Mayor Paul Schuler and (back to camera) State Rep. Horace Calvo. About 50 attended.

GC Rotary will mark 50 years

Fifty years of Rotary in Granite City will be celebrated by 150 Rotarians, wives and guests Tuesday, March 12, at Sunset Hills Country Club, beginning with fellowship hour at 5:30 p.m., a buffet dinner at 6:30 and dancing to the music of Walt Schiemer from 8:30 p.m. until 12:30.

A special session devoted to the golden anniversary will be published as part of the Press-Record Monday, March 11.

Tickets for the 50th year dinner are available at $10 each from Rotarian John J. Polson at the Granite City Trust and Savings Bank through noon Monday, the club announced.

Rotarians Richard M. West and Richard Kerch are co-chairmen of the anniversary observance. Joseph Hassler is the 1973-74 club president.

Rotarian Dr. George T. Wilkins Jr., secretary of the Granite City club, past president of the Madison club and past District 446 Rotary governor, will be presented with the Paul Harris Foundation Award.

The Harris Foundation deals with educational study overseas and exchange groups with other countries. Paul Harris founded Rotary International.

District Governor Kenneth L. Evers will be next Tuesday's guest speaker. Evers, commercial manager of Illinois Bell Telephone, is a past president of the Edwardsville Rotary Club, Chamber of Commerce and United Fund. Gov. Evers is active in the Cahokia Mound Boy Scout Council.

At the club's weekly luncheon, held Tuesday, the Rev. David Fielding, new pastor of Hope Lutheran Church, spoke on the ancient Greek influence on modern society, particularly in the judicial area.

A Greek dessert prepared by his wife and known as "baklava," made with honey, walnuts and sweet dough, was served to the club members.

Drug robbery

Two armed robbers stole cash and half a trash bag full of prescription medication from Sheridan Drugs, 2201 State St., at 6:50 p.m. Tuesday.

Mrs. Edna Sheridan, who was working at the time, said the two men entered, "displayed pistols and told her and two women customers to lie on the floor."

They then told Tim Gruber, a high school student and part-time employee at the drug store, to start filling a trash bag with medicines. They brought the bag into the store with them.

The robbers mentioned amphetamines, but were told the store no longer carries that variety of drugs due to previous robberies and burglaries.

They then told Gruber to start at one shelf and put all of the medications into the bag. They took the money from both cash registers and after Gruber had taken all the drugs from three shelves, they said, "That's enough. It's time for us to leave."

Store owners could not give an estimate of the loss but were taking an inventory this week.

One robber was described as about 27 years of age, about 5 feet, 10 inches tall, having blond hair and wearing a light blue jacket with yellow sleeves, and brown pants. He had a patch with "Teamsters" 500 on his jacket and carried a small revolver.

The other gunman was described as young, about the same height, with brown curly hair, skinny, having no teeth and wearing a dark coat and carrying a Luger style pistol.

Whitsell highly paid—Patrick

Edgar "Pat" Patrick, a candidate for the Madison County Board in District 26, continued his criticism of the incumbent, Louis Whitsell, this week by asking whether taxpayers can afford Whitsell for another four years.

"I am not opposed to an elected official being paid to do the job if he does the job," Patrick said.

"I am strongly opposed to abuse of the system whereby officials can earn large sums and leave each taxpayer wondering what he has received for his money."

"People should receive full value for their tax dollars. It is time to put a stop to abuses of per diem and travel expense reimbursements," he asserted.

Selecting a 17-month period, May 1972-August 1973, Patrick has said Whitsell received $10,830 per diem from the county, $1,220 county travel pay, $3,491 as Nameoki Township supervisor and $1,200 for township travel expenses.

He quoted Whitsell's 1973 tax return showing $7,840 county salary for the past calendar year.

"Mr. Whitsell did not include the figures for his expense reimbursements," Patrick said.

Patrick said Whitsell was paid $1,090 in county travel funds for 1973 and at least $911 in township travel pay (January-August 1973).

"This amounts to a grand total for 1973 of $15,847," Patrick said.

"Whitsell earns far more from his two elected offices for part-time work than the average wage earner does for full-time work," he concluded.

Continue Indian site research

A Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville archaeologist has received a $5,000 grant to continue research into ancient Indian sites in the Cahokia area.

Sidney G. Denny, assistant professor of anthropology, received the grant from the Illinois Archaeological Survey.

Denny has been exploring Indian villages on the limestone bluffs between Alton and Dupo for several years. The small villages were related to the Mississippian Indian capital at what is now Cahokia Mounds State Park. The capital flourished between A.D. 900-1400.

The grant money will enable Denny to hire an assistant to further explore the bluffs for other village sites. Later, these will be mapped and excavated as time permits.

Last year, Denny discovered nearly 75 new Indian sites along the bluffs.

According to Denny, many of the Indian sites are threatened by destruction by highway construction. He and his assistant will assign a higher excavation priority to endangered sites.

Madison-Nameoki bidding March 19

The Illinois Department of Transportation announced yesterday that bids will be taken Tuesday, March 19, for 101 road improvement projects valued at $56.3 million, including $16.8 million for work on the Supplemental Freeway System.

Among the projects is modification of the traffic control system at Madison Avenue and Route 203 (Nameoki Road).

The March 19 letting, which also includes a waterways improvement project, is the second regularly scheduled letting of calendar year 1974. The next bid letting is scheduled for May 10.

Projects also include: cleaning and painting structural steel on 17 bridges in Madison and Clair Counties; removal of superstructures; three bridges over Silver Creek and Lake Fork Creek and replacing them with deck beams, skid-proofing overlay and signalization at Route 157 and St. Louis Street, Edwardsville; and realignment of curbs and installation of traffic signals at Morrison Avenue and Church Street, Collinsville.

Steel sheet prices raised $10 per ton

National Steel Corporation announced Tuesday it is raising the price of cold-rolled sheets and hot-rolled sheets $10 per ton, effective with shipments after 12:01 a.m. yesterday. The corporation owns Granite City Steel.

The extra charge for aluminum-killed steel is being increased $5 per ton.

These increases are being made under authority granted in special Rule 6 of the U. S. Cost of Living Council. It permits cost increases incurred through Jan. 31, to be passed on to customers on a dollar-for-dollar pass through.

"This action is being taken to partially offset cost increases on sheet products which we have been absorbing in steadily mounting volume for more than two years with minimal price relief," George A. Stinson, chairman of National Steel, said.

The Council has determined that, in the interest of long-run price stability and increased capacity, steel firms must be allowed to increase prices now to reflect incurred cost increases.

Levee board meeting is set in GC

Trustees of the East Side Levee and Sanitary District voted yesterday to keep a promise made last year and begin holding some levee board meetings in Madison County.

On a motion by William "Mike" Ebersold, a levee trustee in Madison County, the board unanimously agreed to hold its April 3 meeting at 10 a.m. in the Granite City levee district office, 1707 Madison Ave.

Ebersold's motion was seconded by Trustee Russell Robinson of Granite City and was approved by President Jack Scoville and Charles Claver of East St. Louis. Ronnel Wilson of East St. Louis was absent.

City buys fire house site

City Council members approved by an 11 to 3 vote Monday night a proposal to buy a tract of land at Richmond Avenue and Johnson Road as site of a proposed new Nameoki area fire station.

The action followed nearly an hour's discussion in which spokesmen for delegations of neighborhood residents, both for and against the building of a fire house on the site, were permitted to speak.

Opponents to the proposal who had blocked an earlier council effort to buy the Richmond-Johnson site made their protest through an attorney, Thomas Lakin, who told the council that if it persisted in its efforts to build the station at that location the objectors "are prepared to pursue the matter in court."

Lakin spoke after members of the group he represented gave City Clerk Robert Stevens a petition bearing 99 signatures of persons opposed to a fire station being built at the site.

But Walter Greathouse, speaking in behalf of residents favoring a fire station there, said his group also had circulated a petition and that it bore more than 100 signatures in favor of the plan.

The council approved an ordinance authorizing Mayor Paul Schuler and Stevens to complete an agreement purchasing the site from Granite City Realty Co. at a price of $11,750.

The roll call vote on the ordinance followed. Lively discussion among the aldermen in which Emerald Dawes, alderman of the Seventh Ward in which the fire house would be located, said he had been trying for two weeks to locate another satisfactory site, without success.

He said he had inspected "an old store building" which would cost the city $175,000 and had looked at another building "for which they're asking $135,000."

"The only idea I can come up with is to wait for the Maryville Road improvement and build the fire station on Maryville Road," Dawes said.

Alderman Nann opposed the purchase, noting that "we don't have to go into an area where they don't want us. You have to respect what people want."

Alderman Sam Whitmer who had spearheaded moves to build both a new fire station and a new police station, said he had lived near the main fire station at 23rd Street and Madison Avenue, and "it's never bothered me a bit." He said neighbors near that station never complained about noise or that the proximity of the station had devalued their property.

Don Parente, Granite City fire chief, spoke in favor of the proposed site for replacement of the present Nameoki fire station which, he said, is confronted by serious difficulties from heavy traffic on Nameoki Road. He said the Richmond-Johnson site is centrally located to cover 11 schools and two nursing homes.

In his plea that the city reject the site, Lakin said the opponents of the fire station plan felt "they have been steam-rolled" but several aldermen noted that the group had been on hand to oppose the site earlier this year and that the council had delayed final action a week ago to give everyone an opportunity to be heard in

"From Jan. 1, 1972, to Oct. 1, 1973, no price increase on sheet products were made."

"On the latter date, a partial price rise, originally posted in a larger amount for June 15, 1973, was allowed, effective one-half on Oct. 1, 1973, and the remainder on Jan. 1, 1974."

"With costs of steel production continuing to mount sharply, we are in no position to absorb any longer these increases incurred prior to Jan. 31, 1974, which were not offset by the minimal price rises effected on Oct. 1 and Jan. 1."

The Cost of Living Council in its promulgation of special Rule 6 noted:

"Under the Council's special rules, the steel industry—unlike most industries—has not been allowed to increase prices to offset allowable costs as they have occurred even on a dollar-for-dollar basis."

"The Council estimates that over the past year, the steel industry has had to absorb some $750 million—of otherwise allowable costs."

"Special Rule No. 6 recognizes the large cost absorption imposed on the steel industry."

"The Council has determined that, in the interest of long-run price stability and increased capacity, steel firms must be allowed to increase prices now to reflect incurred cost increases."

Office supply firm relocates

Commercial Office Products Co. is occupying new facilities at 1839 Delmar Ave., where expanded floor space enables the firm to better display a variety of office furniture and supplies.

The firm primarily sells its merchandise to other business establishments, according to Edward L. Edwards, co-owner of the company, who is in partnership with Ronald Watts.

Office machines are excluded from the store's inventory, Edwards said.

Both Watts, a St. Louis County resident, and Edwards, who lives at 2404 Morrison Ave., have been in the office products business about 15 years. They have been partners the past six years.

The firm previously was located at 1812 State St.

EARHART SOLOS
On Jan. 12, 1935, Amelia Earhart became the first woman to fly solo from Hawaii to California.

HALF A CENTURY of employment with Granite City Steel Co. came to a close with the retirement of Alex Skubish, right. He is presented a GCS retirement award by Utilities Superintendent Henry Hellrich. Skubish lives in Madison and is the last of four Skubish brothers to retire at the steel plant.

Ends half-century at GC Steel

Alex Skubish, 1025 Iowa St., Madison, ending a half-century career with Granite City Steel Co., has retired as turbine plant engineer in the utilities department. He is the last of four Skubish brothers to retire from GCS—Mike, Stanley and Casmer having preceded him. The four had a combined total of 165 years of service with the firm.

Understandably, Skubish had mixed emotions about leaving. "I think people can understand that," he said. "That's a long time to be with one company. I've seen us go from the horse and buggy days to a fully modernized plant. Keeping progress with the times—that's a big thing that kept the plant in existence today."

Skubish was also a long-time union official, although he had held no office recently. He was financial secretary of Local Union No. 11 for 10 years until that union merged with Local 30 in 1962.

Skubish became the first president of the new union. He served for 14 consecutive years as Local 30 president, and after a lapse of two years, held the office for eight more years. In all, he was elected to eight two-year terms and two three-year terms.

"I've always looked upon the union-management relationship as a two-way street," he noted. "I always recognized management's problems and I think they recognized the union's problems . . . and if we both went in that direction, we came out pretty good."

The veteran steelworker declined to offer advice to new men coming on the job today.

"However," he declared, "the steel industry is a good place for an individual to work, and I believe—now that Granite City Steel and National merged—job security is that much greater than before."

As a member of the board of directors of the GCS Employees Federal Credit Union since the inception of the Credit Union in 1942, Skubish would like to continue an active role in that organization.

Skubish enjoys traveling and is a horse racing and dog racing fan. He said that he is making no special plans until his wife, Ann, who works in the GCS General Office cafeteria, also retires in about a year.

The Skubishes have two daughters and six grandchildren.

Rev. J. C. Massey dies

The Rev. J. C. Massey, 85, of Rural Route One, Ethel, Miss., father of two Granite City residents, died at 5:30 a.m. Tuesday at the hospital in Kosciusko, Miss., where he had been a patient since Jan. 4.

A native of Mississippi, Rev. Massey was an active Baptist minister serving churches in the Ethel, Miss., area.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Ella Massey; three sons,

C. D. Massey of Granite City, Odus and Virgil Massey, both of Ethel; three daughters, Mrs. Opal Davis of Granite City, Mrs. Nevada Neal of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Clara Lee Gentry of Jackson, Miss., and grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Wednesday in Kosciusko. Burial was in the Macedonia, Miss., Cemetery.

Former resident honored

Gene Geil, a former Granite City resident and relative of local residents, was honored with Bob Hope and four other California honorees at the National Conference of Christians and Jews 46th anniversary citation dinner on Feb. 28 in San Diego, according to word received here this week.

Dr. Jacob H. Cunningham, executive director of the San Diego Region of NCCJ, announced the five citizens, all residents of the San Diego area, were honored for their work in the areas of community, interfaith and intergroup relations.

Geil, a 1936 graduate of Granite City High School, is a brother-in-law of Wallace C. A. Johnson and uncle of Mrs. Carol L. Cathey, both of Granite City.

His brother, Oliver Geil, resides in Jerseyville, Ill.

The former resident is a past president of the Oceanside Chamber of Commerce and organization director of the West Coast National Bank.

He was cited for his youth work as the organizer and founding director of the Oceanside Boys Club and organizing trustee of the Oceanside Presbyterian Church. Geil also is active with the Armed Forces YMCA, the Boy Scouts and the Rotary Club and is a 32nd Degree Mason.

Geil and his wife have a daughter, Mrs. Richard Hargrove, and a son, Gary Geil, a high school senior.

FACES GUN CHARGE
Bruce Hall, 19, of 2536 Washington Ave., was arrested at his home Monday and charged with unlawful use of a weapon. He allegedly pointed a gun at Randy Hall, 2228 Alexander St., at 23rd and Monroe streets earlier, police reported.

GC budget

depending upon negotiations between city officials and union officials representing city employees. All of the unions with city employees are affiliated have notified the city they wish to reopen their contracts this year.

Parmley asked the aldermen to study their copies of the budget draft in preparation for further budget discussions in the March 18 council session. "Since these figures do not include salary increases, and none of the revenue sharing budget, you can readily see that these items (for operating expenses) are going to take a lot of cutting," Parmley said. Among the budget projections are $25,000 for two additional firemen, and provision for three additional police officers and the hiring of five civilian dispatchers in the Police Department, for which no salaries are listed at this time. Other major items in the Police Department budget include $45,000 for ten new police cars. The figures include $25,750 for maintenance of the sewer system, with $500,000 of this amount earmarked for repair of sewer breaks. This year's sewer breaks already exceed $1.1 million in repair costs.

Also included is $223,482 appropriation for payment of firemen's pensions, up from last year's $174,614 budget. The city was notified by the state in Monday night's meeting that a total of $223,482 would be necessary this year to comply with pension requirements. The public library budget which is met by a separate tax levy, is set at $155,598, compared to $254,921 actually budgeted for the 1973-74 year which ends April 30.

Pasley infant is stillborn

Melissa Pasley, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael (Sally) Pasley, 3001 Village Lane, was stillborn at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

Survivors in addition to the child's parents are grandmothers, Mr. and Mrs. Cedric Pasley and Mr. and Mrs. David Whiteall, of Granite City. Funeral arrangements are listed in today's obituary column.

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD

Page 6 Thurs., Mar. 7, 1974

Sewer bills

accepted in preference to a cost-plus bid by a Granite City contracting firm. The bid set up a cost of $1,000 per day for dewatering sewer break locations—pumping water from the ground to permit access to the break—and $2,500 per day for bypass pumping of sewage around break areas.

Since the contract was effected, the Ernest company has repaired 20 sewer breaks in the Nameki area and has received payment of $1,136,155 through Monday night, when the City Council approved payment of $1,455,883 following discussion in which the firm's claims, at one point, were separated from the regular bill list.

Daves said his committee's investigation was promoted by log entries by Skubish which indicate that the city was billed for dewatering and bypass pumping as separate instances at several locations where pumping operations may have been maintained by only one work crew.

Daves said dewatering and pumping costs were based on daily operations by work crews, and that City Council members think only one daily charge should be made for any one work crew, regardless of whether the crew maintained pumping operations at more than one break. A city official said "four or five" instances of billing are being checked.

Daves said any differences between the city sewer inspector's records and billing by the Ernest firm should be cleared up before the city pays the contracting firm its 10 per cent retention fee of approximately $150,000 when the sewer break repair work is completed.

Sage told city officials at the meeting Tuesday that repair work should be completed within the next 30 days assuming that no further sewer breaks occur. The practice of holding back 10 per cent of total cost is common in contract work, Daves said.

"We want to be sure that any differences in billing are accounted for when the time comes for the city to pay the retention fee to the contractor," the committee chairman said. Alderman Boyd reported during the City Council meeting

Monday night that the city has fared far better in its repair of sewer breaks under the Ernest unit-price bid than it did during 1969 and 1970 when sewer breaks were repaired on a cost-plus bid.

In the first place, Boyd said, the city would have received no federal flood disaster aid to help the city in paying sewer repair costs had it awarded the work under cost-plus bidding.

This fact developed several months after the city awarded the unit-price contract to Ernest in July, Boyd added. So far, Granite City has received government approval of $625,000 in federal aid for repairing damage to sewers attributed to inferior flooding by heavy rains last spring.

Actually, the city has received only $250,000 of this amount thus far, paying the additional costs out of the general fund as repair work went on.

Boyd said records show the city repaired 17 sewer breaks in the 1969-70 period at a total cost of $1,455,883 under the cost-plus bid, as compared to repair of 20 sewer breaks last year and this year at a total cost so far of $1,136,155.

On this basis, he said, the average repair cost of each sewer break during the 1969-70 period was $86,000, while the average repair cost of each break in the 1973-74 period was $56,800.

ALL THE FISH YOU CAN EAT FRIDAY, 11:59 AT GRANTS

Overtime game ends Steeler cage season

"When you're hot, you're hot, and when you're not you're not."

But a team cannot be both hot and cold and beat the 1973-74 Edwardsville Tigers. The GCHS North Stealers discovered last night in a 65-63 overtime loss.

The Tigers advanced to the GCHS South Class AA regional tournament title game here at 7:30 p.m. Friday against Collinsville.

Free throws were decisive. North hitting one of six and Edwardsville 13 of 22.

North matched Edwardsville basket-for-basket throughout the first period but trailed 13-12 going into the second quarter on a Tiger charity toss.

Shifting to a "single pivot" attack, the Stealers formed a semi-circle around the basket, with Dave Schneke inside. Steve the senior for 14 of his 21 points to aid North in pulling ahead 32-24 at halftime.

Again changing the attack—this time with Larry Jones as side—North connected with 16 points to hold the lead; but the Stealers played hitting striking distance by scoring 20, four from the foul line, for a 48-44 tally.

Edwardsville for three quarters had avoided allowing North any free throw attempts. It hadn't seemed to matter because the Stealers had been so effective in scoring from the field. But when an opportunity came for North to win the game, the Stealers were ice cold.

The Stealers held on and were ahead 58-56 with 49 seconds left to play. Tiger Dick Brown recovered a missed Steeler foul shot and fired the ball down court to Greg Ahart for the tying field goal.

New life was injected into Steeler fans when an Edwardsville foul at the buzzer sent the line to free for two free throws. But the cold shooting prevailed, forcing an overtime period.

When time, Darrell Page hit a basket. After Edwardsville scored a tying field goal, Dave Schneke provided the final Steeler lead on a field goal.

Another Tiger goal made it 62-62 and two free throws put Edwardsville ahead. After Schneke cut the North deficit to 64-63 with 35 seconds left, the Tigers hit a final charity toss with five seconds remaining. North managed a shot at the buzzer but it was off target.

The Stealers had a 31-26 edge in field goals and committed 12 fouls to the Tigers. 12 Edwardsville led in rebounds, 27-20.

Rusty Burian's 24 points paced the 20-6 Tigers. North ended its first basketball season at 14-11.

Schneke scored 21 points. Page hit 15, Rogers and Larry Jones eight each, Greg Gauen four and Cary Simpson and Mike Waldo, two each.

The Kahoks advanced to Friday's finale with an 84-69 win over Roxana Tuesday at the South gym.

Venice stops St. Paul, seeks sectional crown

Only five more victories stand between the Venice Red Devils and a state title as the team's season came to a close Sunday night in a 26-3 victory over St. Paul.

St. Paul's Exorcists will chase the Devils out of the state title game.

Venice defeated St. Paul of Highland 86-65 Tuesday in first round action of the Illinois High School Association Class A Vandalia Basketball Section.

Upending St. Paul for the second time this season plunged Venice into tomorrow's 7:30 p.m. championship clash at Vandalia.

Litchfield earned the right to compete for the title by downing Patoka last night 66-61.

The Red Devils won 26-3, made believers of fans who thought the squad could not hit the long outside shots when necessary. When the St. Paul Vikings keened their defensive under on senior Ron Henry, Venice began hitting the basket with outside shots by Tony Sifton, Reggie Gardner and J. B. Harmon. Sifton earned 14 points, Harmon 18 and Carter 12 with their accurate shooting.

When Henry was not busy pulling down a game-high 14 of his team's 41 rebounds, he was knocking down Viking shots, and while warding off defenders, he managed to hit 10 of 12 shots from the field, winding up with 25 points.

The Red Devils opened the contest with a hot hand, hitting 10 of 22 shots to lead 22-14 in the first quarter and 44-31 at the half. They poured in 16 of 27 for a 61-45 third quarter spread.

A St. Paul fan was heard to remark, "Venice has the ball so much they might as well set up camp under the basket."

When the Vikings were able to get their hands on the ball it was just long enough to make 27 of 65 field shots, and 11 free throws earned 15 Venice fouls. Venice earned 10 points on 17 fouls of St. Paul.

Three other Red Devils aided in the win. Mike Logan added nine points and Ron Taylor and Jeff Corrie came up with four each.

St. Paul, 19-9 for the season, was assisted in scoring by 18 points from Kevin Stallard and 16 from John Lengermann.

Peter Domitrovich, 60, dies

Peter P. Domitrovich, 60, of 2201 Hodges Ave., was a resident of Granite City, died at 7:15 p.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Hospital.

He had been ill about two months and was a hospital patient the same period of time.

Born and reared in Granite City, Mr. Domitrovich was employed as a steel worker at the Nesco plant. He was a member of United Steel Workers of America, Local 1021.

Mr. Domitrovich was a veteran of World War II and a member of Sacred Heart Catholic Church.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Anna Domitrovich, two children, Miss Patricia Domitrovich and Peter Domitrovich Jr., both at home.

Funeral arrangements are listed in today's obituary column.

Rail accident victim buried

Funeral services were held this morning at Bible Baptist Church, Cottage Hills, for Nick Effinger, 21, of East Alton, who died at 12:35 a.m. Tuesday in Barnes Hospital, St. Louis.

Mr. Effinger, an employee of the Illinois Terminal Railroad, was crushed between the coupling of two freight cars during a switching operation at the Madison railroad yards near the McCambridge Avenue Viaduct Friday evening.

He was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital and underwent surgery here before being admitted to the intensive care unit. He was transferred Monday to the St. Louis hospital where he died.

Mr. Effinger never was married. He was born in Anna, Ill., and resided most of his life in East Alton. Burial today was in Roselawn Memorial Gardens, Bethalto.

Memorial offerings in lieu of flowers are being received by the family for Bible Baptist Church in Cottage Hills.

Streaking fad

The fad is starkly different from goldfish gulping and telephone booth stuffing crazes of past years, but "streaking" is running nude, usually near college campuses—has spread so widely this week that President Nixon even joked about it last night. At the end of a news conference, he said his hair is streaking (with gray).

Speculation was rife today that streaking would spread to SIUE.

Reports have come from throughout the nation, including St. Louis U., University of Missouri-St. Louis, Meramec College, Missouri Western, St. Joseph, the University of Illinois at Champaign and Parks Air College at Cahokia.

Being naked in public is a crime and there have been scattered arrests. But in a number of cases officers have "looked the other way," figuratively if not literally.

Honor Little Rascals

More than 200 persons were in attendance at the Nameki Recreation Center to hear guest speaker Bob Buck address players and their families at the Granite City Little Rascal Football Club banquet this week.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Anna Domitrovich, two children, Miss Patricia Domitrovich and Peter Domitrovich Jr., both at home.

Steeler revenge over South opens regional

While an early spring rain pelted the grounds outside Granite City High School South Memorial Gymnasium Monday night, the Steelers of GCHS North were inside storming their way to a 46-37 victory over GCHS South in the opening round of the Class AA basketball regional.

The win for North was not easy as the South Warriors formed a three-man barrier around Steeler Dave Schneke and held his usually double-figure scoring to five points in the contest.

"South's defense," remarked Steeler Coach Bill Ohlendorf, "is to be commended. It did a great job against Schneke." The Steelers managed a 13-8 lead going into the second period.

The Warriors' doom began to be sealed in the second quarter when North capitalized on South fouls to hit five of seven charity tosses for a 20-16 halftime lead. South made good four field goals in the second quarter but failed to connect on three free shots.

"We broke the game open in the third quarter," said Ohlendorf, "with pans in interceptions and blocked shots." With the score 32-21, fouls returned to haunt South again in the final period.

North could only connect on three field goals in the final quarter while South hit seven from the field.

But South fouls, one of which dismissed Mike Martinez with 51 seconds left, made the difference. North shot 100 per cent, eight of eight, from the free throw mark.

South's final basket of the contest came with one minute left to play. Martinez shot a 20-footer, but the ball went in the hoop, bounced up and spun around the rim, going off onto the floor where it was picked up by North's Gene Logas.

Martinez stole the ball, dribbled back under his own basket and short-passed to Rick Fancher, who made good the shot.

North's Greg Gauzen tossed in a free shot with four seconds left on the clock to end the scoring. The Warriors committed 15 fouls to North's 12. South led the Steelers 17 to 15 from the field, but North made good 16 of 30 shots from the foul line while South hit three of eight.

North held a slight edge in rebounds, 30 to 28.

Darrell Page sank seven field goals and five foul shots for 19 points to lead North's scoring. Greg Gauzen provided 10 more points, Cary Simpson six, Logas and Schneke five each and Mike Waldo one.

South's Rick Fancher tallied 12 for the Warriors, Martinez had 11, Ken Bertrand eight and Tom Schooley six.

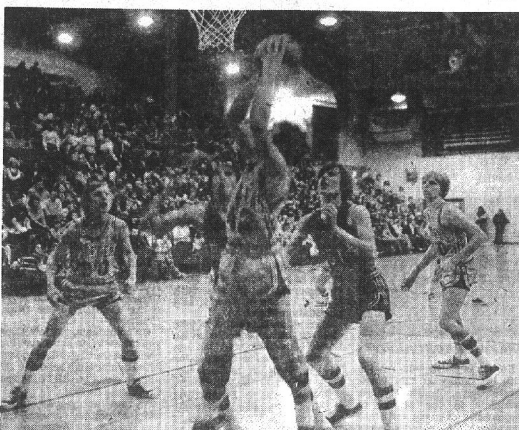

The loss ended the Warriors' basketball season with a 1-22 record. South's only victory was earned Friday night in a 65-63 double overtime win over the Steelers.

The route to victory is not new to Steeler Coach Ohlendorf. He led the Venice Red Devils down that road last year and they finished third in the state Class A finals.

"Monday's contest," added Ohlendorf, "wasn't as well played as both coaches would have liked; but I'm satisfied, and it feels good."

Centralia wins park cage tourney

The Centralia district runner-up, Springfield, captured the eighth annual Illinois Park and Recreation Society state basketball tournament here, defeating the Highland Park district champions 99-95 during the weekend.

Of the eight men's teams scheduled to participate, only six were on hand at the start of the two-day event as the energy crisis took its toll on the Arlington Heights and Des Plaines representatives.

Harold Brown, superintendent of the Granite City Park District, noted that "the two teams called and said they were not sure they could obtain enough fuel for the return trip." Springfield earned the right to compete for the state title against Highland Park with two straight wins, 97-93 over defending champion Park Forest, and 112-91 over Normal. In the championship contest, Springfield's Carl Pettit tallied 32 points. Highland Park trailed at every quarter, 25-21, 56-55 and 80-74. The state meet was hosted by the Granite City Park District for the second time in four years.

11 running for 2 Democratic nominations to Illinois House

DAVID PARTNEY

David E. Partney, 30, of 2521 Delmar Ave., seeks a Democratic state representative nomination March 19.

Manager of the Granite Sheet Metal Works for the past 10 years, he is married to the former Janet Morris. They have a son, Douglas, five years old.

After attending Granite City High School, he studied business administration for three years at SIUE.

His memberships include St. John's United Church of Christ, the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, Moose Lodge #772, Amvets Post 293, Niedringhaus PTA, Sheet Metal Workers Local 288 apprentice committee and American Legion Post 113.

A past member of the Granite City Humane Board, Partney was president of Granite City Jaycees and chairman of the Jaycee rodeo and a Granite City homecoming.

He served in the Army, receiving an honorable discharge.

Partney told the Press-Record, "I hope to be able to help the district in many ways I feel we need new faces and ideas in the Assembly, and someone who would work to restore confidence in public officials."

He pledged to bring state facilities to the people of this district through a fulltime office.

"I would stay on top of all upcoming legislation and inform all local and township officials of all items that may affect their area."

"Also, I would keep them informed and help them apply for all state funds or grants that could be used to make improvements in our district."

"The first thing I would work toward is a complete form ethics law for all elected public officials, such as annual disclosure of income, campaign contribution disclosure and a set amount for campaign spending."

"Second, relieving those on limited or fixed income from tax burdens and inflation would be my goal."

The Watergate affair will affect the coming election by causing a light vote in the primary for the Republican party and a lighter vote than usual in the Democratic primary. It has caused general disgust in a large group of regular voters.

"Watergate does not help the image of politics; it harms all aspects, and hampers honest, well-intentioned candidates."

"I feel both the legislature and the governor have to compromise on the issues that came up in the last session, or the $18,000,000 spent for a session can be wasted with few benefits for the public accomplished."

"Far too much time and finances are directed to the northern part of the state and not enough to the southern part. I would be strongly opposed to spending one year dealing only with Chicago matters; the south area needs full time attention."

"Annual sessions are necessary. As presently set up, the pay is adequate. Per diem and expenses satisfy the needs."

"I would put in a lot of time in the job of state representative, but would not give up my interest in our family-owned business. I would open up the first full-time office in our district that would be open five days a week—eight hours per day, with a published schedule of my office hours."

"I have always felt and still feel there are too many lawyers as lawmakers in state and national government. Most of the lawyers making our laws are using these same laws in their regular legal practice, when not in session."

"I feel the size of the House should be cut to two representatives per district."

"This would save taxpayers in Illinois $1,500,000 per year in salaries and expenses. And 118 people could reach agreement much easier than the present 177 members, because there would be 59 fewer opinions."

WENDELL DURR

Wendell Durr, 36, an Edwardsville attorney, is seeking a Democratic nomination for state representative.

A lawyer for more than ten years, he is a native of Madison County.

Durr is married to the former Janette Heuer, and their children are Kimberly, 13, Kendra, 11, and Kerri, nine.

He attended Edwardsville public schools, the University of Illinois, receiving a bachelor degree in psychology and a doctorate in law.

Deacon of the First Christian Church, Edwardsville, he is a member and past president of the YMCA board of directors, a former Boy Scout explorer and a member of the Madison County and Illinois State Bar Associations.

A former Madison County assistant state's attorney, he has been a volunteer parole officer under an experimental program funded by the U.S. Bureau of Prisons.

Durr was a delegate to the Sixth Illinois Constitutional Convention.

He has served as a city attorney, township attorney and park district attorney.

His interests include trapshooting, hunting, flying and swimming.

"I believe it to be a mistake to adopt positions before the facts have been presented," Durr comments.

For that reason, on issues that would come before the legislature, I believe it unfair to take positions until I have heard the arguments on both sides, since normally there will be no argument unless both sides are sincere in their beliefs as to their positions.

"To provide a general feeling for my basic philosophy, I believe to respect individual liberties as opposed to governmental power, and I am rather conservative in areas of governmental fiscal policy."

"The more remote the government from the people and the problems to be dealt with, the more conservative I get as to whether that government should handle the problem and spend the money."

I believe we have to some extent fallen into the foolish habit of looking to government for solutions to problems in the belief that government can provide something for nothing, or that governmental money is 'free' money."

"This obviously is not so, government having only those people they have taken from the people. But we tend to lose sight of that fact occasionally," he concludes.

A. W. Schrage dies at 72

Arthur W. Schrage, 72, of Staunton, Ill., formerly of Granite City, died at 11:55 a.m. Tuesday at the Staunton, (Ill.) Hospital.

Born in Granite City, Mr. Schrage moved to Staunton nine years ago. He was employed at Granite City Steel Co. 19 years prior to his retirement five years ago.

Mr. Schrage was a member of St. John United Church of Christ and the Senior Citizens Club, both of Granite City.

Survivors include his wife, Mrs. Zepha Schrage; two daughters, Mrs. Charles (Doris) Moores of Portland, Maine, and Mrs. Roland (Lois) Pfingsten of Edwardsville; two sisters, Mrs. Fred (Esther) Stauden of Staunton and Miss Emma Schrage of Granite City; one brother, Ernest Schrage of Carrollton, Mo., and five grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

STEAL TAPE PLAYER
A tape player, two speakers and 12 tape recordings were stolen from the auto of David Lathrop, 2500 Pine St., parked at the Granite City High School South parking lot, it was reported at 4:35 p.m. Tuesday.

The loss was estimated at $155.

REP. HORACE CALVO

Horace L. Calvo, who resides with his family at 3254 Westchester Drive, Granite City, is a candidate in the March 19 Democratic primary for state representative seeking a fourth consecutive two-year term in the Illinois House.

Calvo is an attorney with offices at 1950 State St. He has been engaged in the practice of law in Granite City for the past 18 years.

He has been active in civic programs, having aided youth and sports programs of the park district, and has been vice president of the Human Relations Commission. He served with Attorney General William G. Clark for eight years as a special assistant attorney general of Illinois.

Calvo has been attorney for District 34 of the United States House of Representatives.

He is a member of the Tri-City Bar Association, having served the association as treasurer and president. He also is a member of the Madison County Bar Association, serving on its judiciary committee, and a member of the Illinois State Bar Association and the American Bar Association.

A World War II veteran, Calvo has been a member of American Legion Post 113, Amvets Post 51, Elks Lodge 1063 and Knights of Columbus 2713.

He has been active in seeking passage of new laws considered of benefit to the public, and also has maintained an active role in local residents and state agencies and departments.

Sam Drenovac

Sam P. Drenovac, Rural Route One, Granite City, is a candidate in the March 19 Democratic primary for state representative in the 11th District.

Born in Hartford, he is a resident of Madison County.

Drenovac is a graduate of Hartford Elementary School and Wood River school system, and attended the University of Illinois three years.

He served in the South Pacific in a U.S. Coast Guard amphibious unit.

He is a member of the Hartford American Legion, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Illinois Pure Water Committee and Right to Life.

Drenovac comments, "As a state representative, I would carry out to the best of my ability the following program:

1. "Death penalty—amending the present law establishing death of any citizen as a crime.

2. "Women in government and business: I would give full recognition to women in the matter of appointments. Women have demonstrated a splendid talent for public service."

"They have brought to politics an idealism which was lacking before women's enfranchisement in 1920. We will have better government when women participate in politics."

3. "Right to life and against euthanasia: I believe and shall defend the right of the elderly to live out their natural life."

4. "Right to bear arms."

5. "Education—greater expenditures for the average and gifted child."

6. "Labor—work with labor and industry to bring jobs and prosperity to Illinois and our own immediate area."

Drenovac concludes that he is a businessman and former member of the Leather Workers Union.

TED BENNETT

Ted Bennett, 47, Edwardsville, a candidate for state representative in the 56th District, seeks a Democratic nomination March 19.

Married and the father of four children, he was educated at St. Louis University and his occupation is sales coordinator for Laclede Steel Co. in St. Louis.

He served in the Air Force. Bennett was a Democratic precinct committeeman eight years and a Madison County Board member from 1969 to 1972.

He has been active in the PTA, Boy Scouts, American Legion and Knights of Columbus and is past president of the Edwardsville Democratic Club.

"There are probably as many issues as there are people in the state, and usually each one has its own particular merit," Bennett comments.

"I think that unemployment has to be a key issue. If elected, I would certainly favor all the steps to step up the search for new business to locate in Illinois."

"The East St. Louis and Granite City areas, in particular, desperately need this help."

"Another matter of prime importance is saving lives on our highways. Toward this end, we need new highways, but probably more important, we need to make our present roads safer."

"I believe that our maintenance of lane markings is terrible, to put it mildly."

In addition, I would advocate a periodic inspection of all automobiles in the state. Also I would seek a more comprehensive drivers' examination."

"Lastly, in order to encourage a better voter turnout in Illinois, I would favor making the primary and general elections state holidays."

STEVE MARAGIDES

A lawyer seeking a Democratic nomination as state representative, Steve A. Maragides, 36, of 1020 Grand Ave., Madison, sees greater southern Illinois economic development as a principal issue.

An assistant state's attorney of Madison County handling juvenile cases, he is a lifelong local, resident except for college attendance, military service and a four-year stay in Springfield in which he served as an assistant Illinois attorney general.

He holds a bachelor of science degree from Northwestern University and a law degree from the University of Illinois. Unmarried, he is a member of the American Civil Liberties Union.

"I have always been interested in politics and I enjoy being involved in it," Maragides comments.

"I favor the Columbia-Waterloo airport proposal and would like to see a medical school at SIUE."

"Although I am a lawyer, I actively favor no-fault insurance."

"I would be a full-time legislator and would vote on every occasion. I would not practice law."

Maragides concludes that he would work "to alleviate excessive emphasis in the state legislature on Chicago area economic projects."

"The position of state representative is a job, not necessarily require a college education, but more good old-fashioned common sense, which I have."

"I'm one who can't and won't be intimidated. I believe in serving the people; if the legislation is right, then I'll support it."

"I'd like to restore the public faith in politics. I'll prove that there is such a person as an honest politician."

Amvets dance to aid amputee

The public is invited to attend a benefit dance Saturday night at Amvets Post 51 to help the family of Phillip Manning, who suffered amputation of both legs above the knees on Jan. 7, following a railroad yard accident in Madison.

Tickets, costing $2.50 each, are available in advance from Amvets members or may be purchased Saturday at the Amvets Post. Home, 1900 Lakeview Drive. Music for dancing will be played by the Variety Five, starting at 9 p.m.

Manning presently is a patient at Gary Rehabilitation Hospital at Englewood, Colo., where he is expected to remain confined about six months.

After his legs were severely crushed between two railroad cars at the Moss-American Inc. treating plant, Washington Avenue and Race Street in Madison, Manning's legs were amputated at Firmin Desloge Hospital, St. Louis. He and his wife, Alberta, are the parents of two young children, Phillip, 4 years, and Ida, 2. The family lives at 404 Kirkpatrick Homes.

Post 51 Commander Adam Petras said the veterans' organization has undertaken the benefit dance to help Mrs. Manning visit her husband at the Colorado hospital and to aid the family in other ways.

Manning, 28, served in the U. S. Army in the middle 1960s for about a year, prior to receiving a medical discharge. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Rex Manning of Granite City. His father, a Post 51 member for 27 years, is a past commander and currently is serving as Post 51 service officer.

All proceeds from the dance will be turned over to the Manning family, Petras said.

Venice school fate undecided

The heaviest turnout of voters in the three Venice School District special tax rate elections held within the past nine months occurred last weekend when the 80-cent bond in the education fund sought by the school board was once again soundly defeated by Venice citizens.

A special meeting of the Venice Board of Education was convened Monday evening to canvass the negative $45-221 decision.

However, what further measures are contemplated by the board to offset the district's poor financial picture were not deliberated.

Venice Supt. of Schools John O. Pier indicated that board members had believed last Friday's vote would be affirmative, although not expecting "a big landslide yes vote or anything like that," he added.

About ten Venice residents attended the canvassing session.

"They are very sincere people and are worried just what we can do now in view of the tax rate defeat. About 90 per cent of those at the meeting are people who probably voted for the increase all three times," he speculated.

A total of 595 voters cast ballots in last Friday's election, compared to 488 on Dec. 7 and 556 in the initial election June 30.

Last week's contest asking approval of an 80-cent increase per $100 assessed valuation recorded 221 "yes" votes to 345 "no" and 29 spoiled ballots.

A total of 250 voters said "no" in December to an 80-cent increase with 211 "yes" votes and 21 spoiled ballots.

No voters cast 238 ballots in the June 30 election, which sought a $1.20 rate increase, to 53 in favor and 26 spoiled ballots.

In the latest election, voters casting ballots at the Venice Recreation Center recorded 177 "yes" votes to 306 "no" votes, 19 spoiled ballots. Eagle Park Acres precinct voters cast 44 "yes" to 39 "no" votes and 10 ballots were spoiled.

Board President Leo Davinroy expressed disappointment at defeat of the tax increase referendum and suggested to those at Monday's meeting that a special session may be arranged to afford citizens an opportunity to give their opinion and suggestions to the board on how to proceed under present financial conditions. No date, however, was set for such a meeting.

According to school authorities, Venice District's problems result from a year-to-year decline in the district's assessed valuation, coupled with increased operational costs.

During the past ten years, the district's property valuation has declined from $39,591,565 in 1962 to $32,671,921 in 1972, the last assessment year for which exact valuation figures are available. There was an average annual reduction of $691,000 over the 10-year period. The current maximum educational fund tax rate of $2.05, which now remains in effect, applied against the present valuation, will provide only $646,931 in tax revenue. Total anticipated costs of the Venice district are $964,921, with all revenue expected to produce $856,931. The district also must pay $266,000 of this total to retire outstanding tax anticipation warrants, however.

Delayed start of next fall's school term, increased borrowing, possibility of merging the Venice District with the Madison School District or concentrated austerity measures have been proposed for consideration by the Venice board.

School board rejects fence plan at GCHS-N

Requests for a fence along the south property line of the new Granite City High School North to stop students from damaging lawns when walking to and from school were denied by the Granite City Board of Education Tuesday night.

Board members said the cost would be prohibitive and agreed to ask the school administration, staff and students to seek a solution to the problem.

A motion by Norman Hall, board member, calling for the school to encourage students to overcome the problem was approved. "If it becomes evident they can't, then we will take another look at it," Hall said.

Tully A. Heubner, director of buildings and grounds, said he studied the problem and found a fence along the southern property line, 2,588 feet long, would be the only solution.

He said the fence, six foot tall with barbed wire at the top, would cost about $15,534. "A fence any shorter and we really would be wasting our money as students would just go over it," he said. He added money for such a fence is not available in his budget this year.

Last month the board received a petition from the residents of the school, requesting that a fence be built to keep students from damaging lawns. The request was referred to Heubner for study.

The board also considered an alternate proposal, construction of a sidewalk from the school southward, but said sidewalks build on school property probably would not be used by the students because they could not go along the shortest lines from the school to the areas where the students want to walk.

"We could build a sidewalk, but if it did not go where the students want to go, they will not use it," Heubner commented.

Mrs. Greenlee, 73, succumbs

Mrs. Cecile Greenlee, 73, of East St. Louis, formerly a Madison resident, died at St. Mary's Hospital, East St. Louis, at 1:25 a.m. Friday.

Hooks has Florida visitor

Tom Hooks, 527 Washington Ave., Venice, had a surprise visit from Capt. M. C. "Boots" Shaw of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., during the weekend.

Capt. "Boots", first heard of Tom when he read in a Florida paper of the young man's serious accident in Washington, D.C., June 4, 1971, at an Explorer conference and of Hooks' being presented his Eagle Scout award in the hospital. Shaw is a National Airline pilot.

The pilot read in a newspaper article that Tom wanted to be an airline pilot, and he sent the youth his personal set of wings which he wore while logging 100,000 miles of air time.

Hooks and the pilot spent most of their time talking about flying and reviewing flight plans of the captain's recent trip. Shaw pilots a 340-passenger jet airliner for National Airlines whose main routes are from Florida to the states of New York and California, and to London, England. He flies the Florida to California route.

A pilot for National Airlines since 1946, he began his flying career in 1942. "I had a great time visiting with Boots, young Hooks commented, 'he has a million stories. He told about the many famous people that have flown with him. One time, he told me he noticed a passenger that looked familiar and asked his stewardess, 'Is that Jacques Cousteau?' and she asked, 'Who's he?' young Hooks related.

The two have been corresponding on the average of at least once a month since Hooks' injury.

Sandra Kay Seibold and John C. Ireland are wed

The wedding of Miss Sandra Kay Seibold and John C. Ireland Jr., was solemnized at 2 o'clock in the afternoon of Feb. 16 at the First Presbyterian Church in Champaign, Ill.

Officiating at the double ring ceremony was the Rev. Malcolm E. Nygren. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Seibold, 1218 Gertrude St., Champaign. Mr. Ireland's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Ireland, reside at 2806 W. Daniel St., Champaign. They formerly lived in Mitchell.

Given in marriage by her father, the former Miss Seibold wore a gown of ivory satin-peau styled with an Empire bodice, featuring a high neckline and long Juliet sleeves. The A-line skirt terminated at the hemline in a self ruffle and extended into a chapel length train.

She wore a lace Juliet cap to hold in place a lace edged mantilla veil and she carried a cascade of red and white roses with white baby breath.

Miss Joellyn Woodside, maid of honor, and Mrs. Sue Inskip and Mrs. Amy Kidd, bridesmaids were gowned alike in burgandy velvet dresses.

Their formal length frocks were designed with long sleeves, lace inserts on the bodices and lace-trimmed waistbands. Each attendant held a bouquet of pink carnations with red roses and baby breath.

Paul Sinton attended the groom as best man. Dennis Kunenman and Ed Franko were groomsmen and Donald Ireland and Michael Seibold were ushers.

Guests were received by the bride couple at a reception given at the Champaign Holiday Inn.

Mr. and Mrs. Ireland, parents of the bride, were hosts at a rehearsal dinner given in their home.

After a wedding trip to Florida, the newlyweds are now residing in Urbana.

Rebekah lodge luncheon event

Mrs. Eula Meyer, president of the Helping Hand Juniors Rebekah Lodge #77, presided at a meeting Monday held in Anchorage Recreation Hall.

Members repeated the Lord's Prayer in unison to open the session.

Hostesses, Mrs. Esther Langolf and Mrs. Florence Partridge, served a luncheon followed by games. Those winning prizes were Mrs. Mary Sroggins, Mrs. Vicki Kent and Mrs. Langolf.

Others attending were Mesdames Eleanor Patterson, Lenor Eichen, Alice King, Amalia Jung, Laura Belle Benson, Emma Steiner, Nancy Howells, Mabel Clark, Rebecca Parish and a guest, Mrs. Clara Ledbetter.

Mrs. Steiner and Mrs. Pearl Jones will serve as hostesses in April.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN C. IRELAND JR., who were married in an afternoon ceremony at the First Presbyterian Church, Champaign, Ill. The bride is the former Miss Sandra Kay Seibold, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Seibold of Champaign.

Girl Scout Week starts Sunday

"Girl Scout Week," to be observed on a nationwide basis starting Sunday, will be marked in the Quad-City area with special activities and projects by individual Girl Scout troops.

The 62nd annual celebration will continue through Saturday, March 16, according to Mrs. Diane Hessel, district scouting director for the Quad-Cities.

Among the troops planning activities is Junior Troop 492, sponsored by the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary Unit 53. Under the leadership of Mrs. Verna Kidman, troop members plan to adopt two "grandfathers" who reside at the Colonades Nursing Home.

The girls will visit the senior residents, as well as an adopted grandmother, on Wednesday, March 13. Each will be presented with a special gift.

All Girl Scout troops sponsored by Niedringhaus School PTA will combine to present a flag ceremony directed under the supervision of Girl Scout Leader Pauline Shank during the week, Mrs. Hessel said.

Tentative plans have been made by several groups to prepare displays in various store windows in downtown Granite City and area shopping centers, it was reported.

Several troops will attend church services Sunday as a group and visit community centers in the Quad-Cities.

Cindy Sellars becomes Mrs. Paul M. Nickell

Burning tapers in branched candelabra, white flowers arranged in a plateau basket and urns of ferns provided the setting at Bethel Chapel Pentecostal Church for the wedding on March 2 of Miss Cindy Eileen Sellars and Paul Michael Nickell.

The Rev. Clifton Galhier performed the double ring ceremony at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Sellars, 221 E. McCasland Ave., East Alton. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmos Nickell, 2622 Missouri Ave.

Escorted down the white carpeted aisle and given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a long gown created in a delicate lace and tulle mylon.

Long full sleeves gathered at the wrists into wide cuffs were set in a basque bodice, fashioned with high neckline. Her bouffant skirt of nylon was designed in a redingote effect with a front panel of lace tiers and featured a detachable lace trimmed train.

She wore a mantilla veil of bridal illusion bordered with matching scalloped lace and she held a cascade of white carnations and yellow roses.

A maid of honor Mrs. Patricia Wilks, and aunt of the bride and bridesmaids, Miss Terry Booten and Mrs. Gail Weatherly, the groom's sisters, were dressed alike in full length dresses of yellow voile.

Their gowns were created with an apron effect edged in decorative orange braid. Each girl wore a yellow colonial hat with orange trim and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations and orange roses.

Jay Coy Sellars, a brother of the bride, was ringbearer and escorted the flower girl, Robin McVey, the bride's cousin, who wore a long yellow knit frock accented with orange trim. She carried a basket of yellow carnations with orange roses.

The groom chose his brother, David Nickell, as best man. Don Lange, Sam Reynolds and Jimmy Elmore, the latter two cousins of the groom, and Dwayne Sellars, a brother of the bride, completed the corps of groomsmen and ushers.

After the ceremony, a reception was given at Niedringhaus United Methodist Church fellowship hall.

Mr. and Mrs. Nickell, parents of the groom, entertained members of the wedding party at their home for a buffet dinner on the evening prior to the wedding.

The bride is a graduate of Wood River-East Alton Community High School and belongs to Bethel 88, Order of Job's Daughters. Her husband was graduated in 1969 from Granite City High School.

Following a wedding trip to the Smoky Mountains, Tenn., the newlyweds are residing at 3801 Lake Drive, Pontoon Beach.

MRS. PAUL M. NICKELL, the former Miss Cindy Eileen Sellars, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul D. Sellars of East Alton. She was married at Bethel Chapel Pentecostal Church.

Rev. Groff leaves area Sunday

Allen Groff, pastor of First Assembly of God, 24th Street and Grand Avenue, since 1967, will conduct his final services at that church on Sunday at 10 a.m.

Following a brief service of hymns and praise at 6:30 p.m., the congregation will gather for a farewell dinner in the Fellowship Hall.

The Rev. Groff resigned to become pastor of First Assembly at Pasadena, a suburb of Houston, Tex.

Under the Rev. Groff's leadership, off-street parking on Madison Avenue at the site of the former Big G supermarket has been acquired, as well as the old American Legion Post 113 building which since has been turned into a community outreach known as "Koinonia Center."

Perhaps the major theme of his ministry with the congregation has been the insistence that "salt is no good in the shaker" and the constant movement of the church into the main stream of community life is essential.

Widely known to thousands of high school and college age youth who have participated in church-sponsored activities, especially the "Fifth Quarter" program, during his ministry in Granite City, Pastor Groff has found a large audience of young people eager to receive him as he travels about the nation speaking to their problems.

He will be a leader at a nationwide conference on the University of Oklahoma campus in May as he directs sessions on "Sexual Identity." In great demand as retreat leader and clinician, the Rev. Groff is a leader in Family Enrichment Conferences throughout the country.

Accompanying Pastor Groff to the new assignment will be associate ministers Dan Albrecht and Colin Owen.

The Groff's older daughter, Janet, will remain in Granite City to complete her premed studies at SIUE, where her father served as a member of the first experimental programs in counseling in 1972-73.

A successor has not yet been chosen, it was learned. Bob Spengler is serving as interim chairman of the official board until a new pastor is elected.

W.L. Barton named to advisory board

William L. Barton Jr., 2909 Willow Ave., has been elected to the advisory board of Alpha Phi Omega, national professional honor society for psychological counselors. Barton, a lifelong resident of Granite City, is a practicing psychologist with offices in St. Louis, and also is employed at Granite City Steel Co.

He obtained his degree at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville and at Williams College, St. Clair, Mo. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William L. Barton Sr., 2428 Sunbury Ave.

Shrine burns centers reviewed

Three members of Aina Shrine Temple presented a narrated slide program on the Shrine Burns Centers at a meeting Monday evening of the Women's Evening Guild at St. Peter Evangelical United Church of Christ.

Robert Cook of East St. Louis, president of the Burns Unit; Charles B. Roe, Pinckneyville, unit vice president; and Shriner William B. McGillis of Cahokia were the featured speakers.

The men pointed out that since development of Salk polio vaccine there is less need for the orthopedic surgery formerly accomplished at Shriner Hospitals for Crippled Children. A great portion of the Shriner's efforts now are directed to the Burns Center program. The centers are operated completely through the Shrine organization, with no financial recognition accepted from patients, their parents or the government, the speakers stressed.

Individuals and organizations may help the burns program through the purchase of "Bonds for Burns." The bonds are bought in the name of a Shrine club and held until maturity, the guest speakers explained. As part of the meeting activities, Mrs. Shirley Glenn read several inspirational poems taken from the book "Somebody Cares" by Helen Steiner Rice.

Twenty-five members were present and guests Mesdames Mary Mullen, Hulda Davis and Marie Whittle. Refreshments were served by Joyce Matson, Annabelle Patton, Bea Rittenhouse and Marcia Bueger.

PEDESTRIAN INJURED Paul Costello, 27, of 2304a Iowa St., received minor injuries when struck by a hit and run auto at 20th Street and Madison Avenue at 1 p.m. Monday. He said he was crossing the street and the auto was turning the corner when he was struck, the impact causing him to fall onto the hood of the car. When he got off, the driver left the scene in the light green auto.

Animal adoption center reopens

The Quad-City Association for Protection of Animals, a non-profit humane group, will reopen its adoption center Saturday at the Grant City store in Nameoki Village Shopping Center, Mrs. Judith Johnson, APA president, announced this week.

Mrs. Connie Becerra, new shelter supervisor for the APA organization, will coordinate the adoption program, which will take place on the second Saturday of each month, weather permitting, throughout the summer.

Hours for the center will be from 10 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. A nominal fee to partially cover the cost of medical attention and other care given the animals is asked from persons adopting them, Mrs. Johnson said.

Most of the puppies and kittens to be offered at Saturday's clinic have received their initial shots, Mrs. Becerra advised.

"We will have several real cute puppies and kittens among the available animals," she said. Also ready for adoption are a young Siamese female and a 6-month-old classic tabby spade female.

Jon Hall of St. Louis, president of the Mid-West Diving Council, will give the slide presentation. Weiss also stated that area residents who are qualified scuba divers, but lack the necessary certification, are being invited to contact him at 877-3912, or diving instructor, Phil Lamm, at 676-1575.

Certification of eligible divers and issuance of appropriate cards is possible under a new policy recently discussed by local scuba club officials, Weiss said.

Believe it or not — track opener tonight

Spring-like weather has arrived in the Quad-City area just in time to help usher in the 1974 high school track season at three local schools, Granite City High School South and North and Madison High.

Madison's Trojans open the year with an indoor meet at 7 p.m. today with Edwardsville and O'Fallon at Edwardsville. Both South and North will send their competitors to Western Illinois University at Macomb at 11 a.m. Saturday to compete with more than 50 other schools from Iowa, Illinois and Missouri.

Although all three schools will be participating in indoor events before moving outside, all three coaches feel the regular season does not formally begin until the outdoor events get under way.

South's head mentor Don Miller told the Press-Record, "Our track squad is relatively young and inexperienced. We have 40 athletes trying to qualify for the team, including freshmen."

"We are using the indoor meets to weed out the ones who show competitive potential, dedication and determination," Miller said. "It looks as if the Warriors will have a lot of inexperienced juniors and sophomores, but that when the regular season begins Tuesday, April 2, at Belleville East, five seniors also will be on hand."

They are Dale Williams, Dave Ruebhausen and Tom Schooley in sprint competition and Kenny Kibort and Dwayne Terry in the half-mile and Terry one and two miles.

Harry Lang, first year coach from Collinsville at North, reports that few of his prospects are track members only; the squad will be led from other varsity sports at the school.

"We are thin in varsity experience," said Lang, "but it looks like we will have a good field of juniors."

GRANITE CITY PRESS-RECORD
Thurs., Mar. 7, 1974 Page 19

termian, pole vault, low hurdles and half-mile run.

New trackmen are: Freshman Mike Urioste, 100 and 220 yard dash; Freshman Jeff Thompson, 220 dash and weights; Freshman Rodney Walker, 440 dash, high and long jump; and Sophomore David Meyer, half-mile and mile distance runner.

Last year, Stanley tied the state record by running the high hurdles in 15.1 seconds. Boyd runs the 100-yard dash in 10.1 seconds. "Both are good district prospects this year," Stepler believes.

Steelers Coach Lang possibly said it all for this year's trackmen: "They are of a special breed of athletes. If a track competitor does good for himself, he'll in turn take care of the team."

Steelersettes top Wood River
North High School Steelersettes downed Wood River 55-43 Tuesday, at the Grigsby Junior High School gymnasium, for their first cage victory of the season.

The young ladies' varsity squad held a 12-11 lead over the visitors at the end of the first period. Wanda Carroll, a spokesman for the North team, remarked, "We ran a zone defense in the first quarter and Wood River ran right through it."

We switched to a modified defense with two guards up front," she continued, "and after that we held their scoring to a minimum."

The change in strategy helped to increase the Steelersettes' lead at the end of the remaining periods: 27-17 and 43-38. Jan Rose led scoring with 15 points, while Joy Pierson hit 13, Carla Macios and Cindy Arnold eight each, Robin Hayden six and Jeanne Huff, five.

North, now 1-2 for the season, will meet the Shellettes of Roxana at 4 p.m. Friday, March 15, on the enemy's court.

Explorers dance at Pack 17 event

Indian dancers from Explorer Post 6, sponsored by Concordia Lutheran Church, provided the entertainment last week at Cub Pack 17's traditional Blue and Gold banquet at Marshall School.

The Explorers, attired in authentic Indian costumes, presented several ceremonial dances under the direction of Donald Beck. Brilliant native dress was worn by the youths to enhance the factually reproduced dances.

Pack 17's Webelo Den under the leadership of Mrs. Joyce Wilson presented the colors and Richard Ault, Marshall School principal, offered the invocation.

Cubmaster Bill Johnson welcomed the guests and gave a brief resume of the 64-year history of Cub Scouting. Mrs. Shirley Gann, Mrs. Darlene Livingston and Mrs. Wilson read activity reports. Awards were presented by Mrs. Carlene Givens, advancement chairman, to:

service pin and perfect attendance bar, traveler and naturalist badges; Phil Johnson and Jerry Stagner, Webelo colors; Curtis Gaines, Wolf badge and recruiter patch; James Livingston, Wolf badge; Sammy Givens, Webelo colors and artist badge; and David Marks, artist, showman and traveler badges.

Certificates of appreciation were given to former Pack 17 leaders and committee members—Bill Osborn, Webelo leader; Bob James, advancement; Jerry Bergrader, outings; Bruce Wickham, assistant Webelo leader; Nancy Wickham, den mother and Marlena Johnson, pack secretary and den assistant.

Johnson announced a film on space travel will be shown at the March pack meeting, with a space or pinewood derby event to be scheduled in April. Bill Schrieber, institutional representative, expressed appreciation to Pack 17 parents, cubs and leaders for a "fine Cub Scout program."

The annual awards dinner of the Granite City Area PTA Council was held at the Granite City High School North Cafeteria, with Mrs. Vera Farrow, council president, and Mrs. Virginia Apperson, program chairman, conducting the event.

The evening's festivities were capped with presentation of awards by local PTA unit to members who have displayed outstanding service to the Parent-Teacher Association.

The following were honored for their service: R. D. Johnson School, Mrs. Nancy Pelikan and Mrs. Laura Falter. Lake School, Mrs. Dorothy Webster School, Principal Clyde Lee.

It was pointed out that Lee has not missed an executive PTA session or regular PTA meeting for 21 years.

The audience, numbering 126 members, included as special guests School Supt. and Mrs. B. J. Davis, Lee's brother, Earl Lee, a retired school principal and personnel administrator, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Briggs and Mr. and Mrs. Vasil Elfmoff. Briggs and Elfmoff are candidates in the March 19 Democratic primary election for superintendent of the Madison County Educational Service Region.

Youthful magician entertains

Glen Tonsor of Granite City, a 12-year-old, magickian, entertained more than 55 persons at the annual Blue and Gold banquet of Cub Pack 3 at Pontoon Beach Church of Christ last week.

A spaghetti and salad dinner was served in the Fellowship Hall prior to the youthful performer's magic show.

The Rev. Lowry Sutherland, pastor, gave the invocation and introduced Mark Yehling, Uniwah (Quad-Cities) District Boy Scout executive.

Webelo Leader, Jerry Henderson was in charge of the program, and Yehling presented achievement and service awards to the Cub Scouts.

The youths honored were Derek Parker, who received gold and silver arrow points and Brian Sheppard, a gold arrow point. Webelo William Edwards earned outdoorsman and naturalist badges.

Cub Pack 3, sponsored by the Pontoon Beach Church of Christ, will convene for its next pack meeting on March 28, Henderson announced.

'Chickens coming home to roost' in the form of sewer breaks years after the controversial installation program in newer sections of Granite City

Our Feb. 25 comment, "Deep concern among officials, citizens over sewer break repair program," dealt with problems associated with the de-watering and repair work performed and continuing in Granite City at great cost to property owners.

The primary purpose of editorial commentary is to stimulate public study and discussion, and there has been much of both in recent days. Perhaps some type of solution can be found by citizens and their elected officials.

In an accompanying article on this page today, an officer of the contracting firm doing the local sewer repairs comments on the firm's conviction in an unrelated case.

He voices his belief that the verdict will be reversed, and notes the complexity of the problem. He also mentions the finding of "bid rigging." He defends the quality of work that is carried out, and cites examples of extra attention to detail with the goal of satisfying clients, agencies and the public.

Amid praise for our exploration of the subject, voiced at this week's City Council meeting, were some reassuring statistics.

In a previous wave of sanitary sewer breaks and repairs in 1969-70, the cost per break was $86,000, a total of $1,465,883 for 17 locations in Granite City.

During the current episodes of 1973-74, the city has spent $1,136,155 or an average $56,800 for 20 breaks. The reduction is $29,200 per break despite four years of wage hikes and supply cost rises.

This shows progress toward economy and efficiency, but the city treasury nevertheless is moving rapidly toward the brink of disaster. Compounding the situation is the federal government's less than full acceptance of the breaks as a flood-related emergency.

Open house Sunday will launch Salvation Army building fund campaign here

Widespread support appears to be developing for a capital fund campaign to finance construction of a Salvation Army Corps building and community center at Maryville Road and Grand Avenue, near Maryville Grade School.

Efforts to raise a minimum of $200,000 will begin with an open house on Sunday from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. at the headquarters building at 19th Street and Grand Avenue.

The present structure is to remain in use for the local Corps service and aid programs, including annual Tree of Lights assistance.

The modern new building is to house character-building youth programs and activities serving all age groups, including the elderly.

Salvation Army services here during the past 51 years have been expanding and the existing facilities are inadequate.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Morrison have provided a 3.1-acre site for a

Not all the current breaks have been repaired at this time, and perhaps not all have been discovered. Later series of breaks in future months and years are possible.

There is an old joke about a thrifty housewife who found such attractive sales bargains that she spent the family into poverty. Even assuming that the municipality is obtaining a real bargain under the present unit-price repair contract, the financial "point of no return" clearly is close at hand.

Adding to the frustration is the "bum rap" that the sewer condition is giving the Quad-Cities.

The implication of bad sewers is to bear out concern about floodplain development. St. Louis regional officials, for whatever motive, are moving to shove the blame down below the bluffs. Illinois progress, the Walker state administration is moving to set up a permit program to block building on floodplains.

The Quad-Cities actually have nothing to fear, passing the "worst flood ever" test in 1973 with flying colors. Well-built early sewers have functioned well, enabling people to live contentedly and industry to thrive here for more than 70 years.

But later installations apparently were much less sound and have painted a different picture. Even though it is a false picture of an unsatisfactory area, its message is the one being perceived by the region and state.

The controversial installation work in newer areas of the city actually dates back a number of years now, but it is continuing to create bad news in the form of sewer breaks.

As we said earlier, the sewer issue is so acute that it deserves the prompt and full attention of all parties, including the public. The challenge certainly is not going to be an easy one to resolve.

steel structure consisting of either 12,000 or 19,000 square feet, depending on the amount of funds raised. There have been substantial gifts, bequests and advance contributions toward the $314,500 estimated total cost of erecting the full building and providing equipment and furnishings.

Plans include a gymnasium, game rooms, program-meeting rooms, kitchen, lounge, ceramics room, work room, library, band room, chapel, nursery and offices, plus a large parking area.

The Salvation Army has never conducted a capital fund drive in the Quad-Cities. In 1943, labor unions here aided in constructing the present headquarters building.

Youth, adult, aid, emergency, institutional and counseling service expenditures by the Salvation Army in the Quad-Cities have grown in annual volume from $29,896 in 1964 to $64,753 in 1973.

'Work-fare' program urged for state

To the Editor:
The spiraling costs of welfare in Illinois require that more reform in Illinois welfare programs must be undertaken, if those truly in need are to be taken care of without inflicting a crushing burden on the taxpayers of our state.

Complicating the welfare costs in Illinois are 40,000 persons from out-of-state who each year enter Illinois and join the welfare rolls.

It is estimated that "out-of-state" persons, who in many cases enter Illinois because of higher benefits available, cost Illinois an additional $50,000,000 per year.

I advocate, and if successful as a candidate for the state legislature, will seek the enactment of a "work-fare" program in Illinois, similar to that now in use in California.

Under such a work-fare plan, those able to participate would be required to provide useful public services, in return for welfare payments received. Such needed services would include: additional guards for public buildings and property, where vandalism has been prevalent; added guards in public parks, and at unattended school crossings.

Such jobs would be screened so as not to take employment away from persons not on welfare.

The purpose of this "work-fare" program would be three-fold:

First, to provide needed and useful public services, and protection of public property, reducing the incidence of vandalism and damage.

Secondly, this plan would give a sense of worth, dignity and satisfaction to those qualified to participate in this program.

Thirdly, special attention would be given to "out-of-state" persons joining Illinois welfare rolls, to discourage the transfer of residency to Illinois for welfare purposes.

The escalating cost of welfare, which now is well over $1 billion each year in Illinois, is depriving our citizens of other needed services—and threatening the solvency of our state.

The proper needs of our own citizens must be met, but welfare reform measures are urgently needed to reduce this crushing burden being placed upon the taxpayers of our state.

Accidents take tragic toll of young lives

Increased deaths among children during the dark morning hours of daylight saving time only serve to remind the public that accidents remain the greatest threat to life among school-age children in the United States. A statistical report which documents this grim conclusion estimated that 8,186 children aged 5-14 lost their lives as a result of injury during 1969, the latest year for which detailed official figures are available. This represents a death rate of 20 children per 100,000 population.

Accidents caused more than half the deaths among boys and nearly two-fifths those of the total among girls in this age range.

Drowning, fires and flames, firearms and falls, in that order, are the other major causes of death among children.

Mounting death tolls from motor vehicle accidents were the greatest contributing factor in increased accidental death rate for both sexes, with a 25 per cent increase among boys in the 5-9 and 10-14 age group and one-third increase among girls 5-9 and two-fifths among girls aged 10-14.

The only increase in mortality from all other types of accidents was among girls in the period 1968-69, that death rate among girls aged 10-14.

A considerable proportion of the auto accident victims of school age were fatally injured while playing on or crossing streets and highways.

Pedestrian accidents accounted for almost three out of every five deaths in vehicular accidents among children aged 5-9 and for one out of every four at ages 10-14.

An abrupt decrease in close parental supervision when children reach school age and take basic safety precautions are considered the prime reasons for these pedestrian fatalities.

Girls have been gaining on boys in mortality rates from automobile-related accidents. In 1960-61, that death rate among boys was twice that of girls.

By 1968-69, however, the corresponding rate for boys had decreased to about one and three-quarters that of girls.

By 1968-69, auto-related deaths among boys aged 5-14 accounted for 46 per cent of the accidental mortality, and for 56 per cent among girls of those ages, whereas in 1960-61 the corresponding percentages were 30 and 47, respectively.

Drowning, the second greatest cause of death among boys, accounted for one-fifth of their total accidental mortality.

The death rate from drowning increased among boys as they grew older, ranging from 1.1 per cent among boys aged 5-9 to 10 per cent among boys aged 10-14.

aged 5-9 to 6.3 per cent per 100,000 at ages 10-14. Among girls, the corresponding rates were about 1.4 in both age groups.

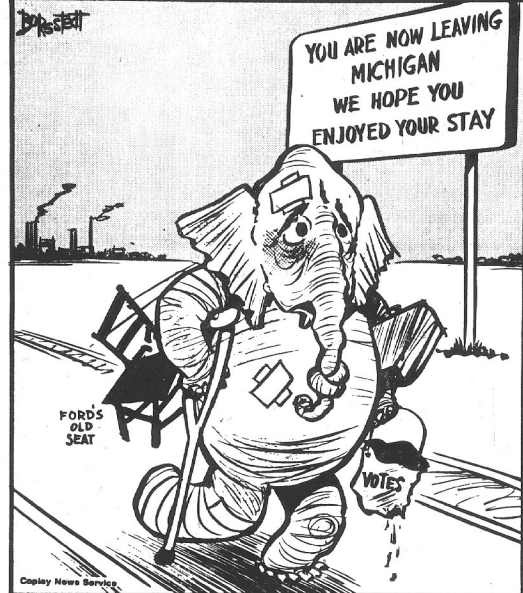

About 150 additional drownings, mostly among boys, occurred each year in water transportation.

Fires and flames ranked as the second greatest cause of deaths among girls in 1968-69. Girls aged 5-9 experienced a death rate of 2.3 per 100,000, but the death rate declined to 0.8 per 100,000 stages 10-14. Among boys, the corresponding rates were 2.3 and 1.1, respectively.

Inexperience with guns and unsupervised handling of them caused a high rate of fatalities among boys 10-14 years of age, with 2.4 deaths per 100,000. Boys 5-9 experienced a corresponding rate less than a third of that among older boys.

Firearms were a negligible cause of accidental deaths among girls.

Falls were responsible for an accident death rate of 0.7 among boys aged 5-14, while the rate among girls was about 0.2 per 100,000.

Health, age valid campaign issues

To the Editor:
I note with sadness the raising of a false issue of age in the current campaign for the state legislature.

You will discover from my speaking that I am not suggesting age of itself to be any significant factor, since I don't believe it to be. My own father, Eldon M. Durr, was a productive lawyer until two days before he died at 61½ years of age.

However, the work of a state representative, if done properly, is super hard work, much harder than I realized before I served as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention in basically similar work.

Taxpayers of this district will invest $60,000 in cash for salary, office allotment, mileage allowance and per diem expense allowance for the next two-year term to train a freshman legislator.

In view of that, and in view of the relatively reduced efficiency and productivity in protecting the interests of this district by a freshman legislator, the people should—at least in part—be considering the future benefits to be derived by them from such a training investment.

That means they should be considering the prospective candidates whose ages and health records are such as to give a reasonable prospect of serving effectively for eight or ten or twelve years to build up the seniority power that will benefit this region.

As an aside, I might point out that the people have heretofore invested approximately $17,000 in my salary, per diem expenses, and mileage allotment, as a delegate to the Constitutional Convention to acquire basically similar experience and to develop very close, day and day-out working relationships with the other delegates.

Twelve of the delegates are now state senators and representatives, with whom the next representative will be working as I have for nine months heretofore.

That kind of investment by the people should not be disregarded lightly, since we are talking about thousands of dollars, not a nickel here or a nickel there.

Quality work contractor

By RICHARD R. SAGE
Vice President,
Finis P. Ernest, Inc.
East St. Louis

This is in reply to the many articles appearing in the various newspapers.

There have been many articles recently concerning the conviction of Finis P. Ernest, Inc., for violation of the Sherman Anti-Trust Act.

I feel that the articles described only one side of the situation and that it is incumbent upon us to explain our position in the matter.

To begin with, we could have entered a plea of nolo contendere, but we did not.

Our lawyers advised us in advance that we would have to go to the Appellate Court, where the case is not heard in front of a jury.

We are assured that the conviction will be reversed at the level of the Appellate Court.

The innuendo in the newspapers that all contractors, and particularly this company, are engaged in mysterious illegal activities is simply not true.

This is a fiercely competitive bid and the bidding records, if one takes the time to examine them, would prove that fact.

We feel the integrity of this company is being questioned by the newspapers without a complete knowledge of the facts.

I am enclosing a letter from the commissioner of Streets and Public Improvement of East St. Louis, concerning a $1,700,000 sewer job we performed for them.

On that job our bid was $400,000 lower than our closest competitor. The letter speaks for itself as to the quality of our work and our ability to do the work.

We have recently been awarded a $1,000,000 sewer job in St. Clair Township, in spite of what was printed in the newspapers, because they know of our integrity and ability and that we won the job in open competition.

We are doing a sewer repair job in Granite City which, again, was awarded after open bidding.

I believe an examination of the work being done there will also illustrate the quality of the work we do.

It is regretful that newspapers depend on the notorious side of an event to

The new members are Calvin Bartels, principal at Prather Junior High School, and Robert B. Cowan, head of the Social Studies Department at Granite City High School North.

Bartels was sponsored by Robert Maxwell, assistant principal at Prather JHS and a Phi Delta Kappa member for several years. Cowan's membership was sponsored by Eugene L. Aiassi, art education consultant for the Granite City School System.

Principal aims of Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity are to promote and encourage the improvement of free public education through a continuing interpretation of the ideals of research, service and leadership.

Robert D. Todoroff, music director at Granite City High School North, serves as president of the PDK area chapter. He said the goals of the fraternity are pursued through active programs sponsored by every chapter, plus an expanding program at the national and international level.

Steve Jones, assistant principal of Granite City High School South, addressed the luncheon guests. His topic was based on the theme—"An Initiate's Point of View."

Energy conservation — good for health?

Apart from its political, economic and social implications, the energy crisis will have an impact on the nation's health. Just how great the impact will be isn't known, but a few observations have been made and some trends are predicted, says Lawrence O'Reilly, University of Illinois health education specialist.

The winter months and turned-down thermostats have not caused outbreaks of colds and flu.

In fact, reduced room temperatures may prevent some health problems that might otherwise occur, O'Reilly notes. Home temperatures in the mid-60s are said to be healthier for most people than those in the mid-70s.

He explained that high room temperatures reduce humidity and the resulting dry air aggravates respiratory problems and contributes to coughs, dry noses, dry throats, and dry skin.

Even if an influenza outbreak occurs, he added, "don't worry about the lower room temperature. Research shows this won't worsen the condition."

Federal mandatory fuel allocation guidelines specify that medical, dental and nursing practices, including clinics, hospitals, and nursing homes, must be provided all the heating fuel they need, O'Reilly adds.

But skyrocketing fuel costs have encouraged hospitals to institute energy conservation measures. They already are reporting using much less fuel without disrupting patient services.

Some hospital authorities also are determining the tolerance of their electrical equipment in anticipation of possible "brown outs" this summer.

Most electrical equipment can tolerate voltage drops of up to 10 per cent, although at that level, the sharpness of x-ray pictures will be reduced. Auxiliary power can be used to operate such equipment should a serious voltage reduction occur.

Health care facilities face a possible shortage of disposable syringes and other plastic disposable items. If this situation develops, it may be necessary to use equipment that must be sterilized.

Hospital emergency rooms are experiencing some side effects of the energy crunch. Gasoline rationing and the 55 miles an hour speed limit have already reduced the number and severity of traffic accidents.

O'Reilly says these could save as many as 14,000 American lives in 1974. Reduced traffic may also mean that emergency vehicles will find it easier to reach the ill and injured and transport them to the hospital.

But the gasoline shortage also has had some negative health effects. Physicians are reporting more accidents caused by persons swallowing gasoline while syphoning.

Several deaths have resulted from accidents involving vehicles carrying spare cans of gasoline. Not enough people realize that the explosive capability of a one-gallon can of gasoline is equal to nearly 14 sticks of dynamite.

With warmer weather approaching and more people taking to the road, traffic accidents may increase again.

Some health authorities are concerned over an anticipated switch to high-sulfur fuels. Combustion of these fuels can result in more sulfur oxides and particulate matter in the air unless the levels are reduced by exhaust controls.

These substances can aggravate chronic respiratory problems and heart disorders, O'Reilly notes.

As spring approaches, you may get the urge to save fuel by becoming more physically active. And more physical activity will probably benefit most adults.

More people should walk or bicycle short distances instead of driving their cars, it is stressed.

But individuals with special health problems, like heart disease or chronic back problems, should check with their doctors before engaging in new or strenuous activity programs, O'Reilly cautions. Don't attempt to do heavy work if you aren't accustomed to it, he adds. Think twice about spading your garden by hand if you usually do it with a machine.

Sudden vigorous physical demands on sedentary adults may precipitate a heart attack or injure muscles.

Though the unsettled nature of the energy crisis clouds the future, it now appears that America's health won't suffer greatly, O'Reilly says; in fact, as far as your health is concerned, the shortage of energy could be a blessing in disguise.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD GOODMAN, whose wedding took place at the Southern Illinois University Religious Center at Edwardsville. The bride is the former Miss Cynthia Lesko, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lesko, 712 E. Chain of Rocks Road.

Goodman-Lesko nuptials at SIU Religious Center

Miss Cynthia Lesko, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Lesko, 712 E. Chain of Rocks Road, and Richard Goodman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Goodman, 2212 Amos Ave., exchanged wedding vows, Feb. 15 at 7 o'clock in the evening at the Southern Illinois University Religious Center at Edwardsville.

The Rev. David T. Richardson, pastor of the Third Baptist Church in Granite City, officiated at the double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with white floral arrangements and greenery.

Wayne Fisher and Mike Rummel provided the musical accompaniment for the two soloists, the Rev. Richardson who sang "True Love" and Miss Jean Schieferle who sang "We've Only Just Begun," "Bible Verses" and "Galation."

The latter number was written by Mike Rummel.

For her wedding, the bride chose a white organza gown, full length, designed with a Chantilly lace Empire bodice and long shepherds sleeves, accented with a lace cap and lace wrist bands.

The A-line silhouette skirt was bordered in matching scalloped lace and extended into a chapel length train.

She wore a lace petal headpiece to secure an elbow length veil of bridal illusion, edged in a wide lace trim, and she carried a bouquet of gardenias festooned with long satin ribbons.

Matron of honor Mrs. Albert Lesko, an aunt of the bride, selected a long red velvet gown enhanced with a cream colored lace and complemented by a matching headpiece.

Miss Diane Goodman, the groom's sister, served as bridesmaid. She appeared in a blue velvet frock fashioned identically to the honor attendant's gown. Both carried a single long stem red rose.

The groom chose Sherman Smith as his best man. Keith Cattoni was groomsman and Gary Butkovich and David Anders seated the guests.

Miss Kathy Petrovich presided over the guest book at a bridal party dinner given at Rusty's Restaurant, Edwardsville, following the ceremony.

A rehearsal dinner was served at Charlie's Restaurant on the evening preceding the wedding.

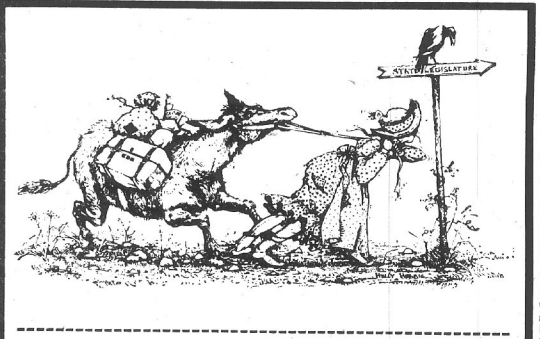

Mrs. Lesko, mother of the bride, wore a formal length dress created in hot pink chiffon with long sleeves. A rhinestone trim marked the waistline.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Goodman, chose a pale blue polyester gown trimmed in lace. Both mothers wore a gardenia encircled with Sweetheart roses.

The newly married couple is now residing in Granite City. Both attend Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The bride, a senior year student, is employed as secretary at the SIUE Reading Center.

Mr. Goodman, also a senior, works part-time in the biology department in preparation of becoming a pre-dental student.

Help Send Carmen to Springfield

Carmen Deist Kerr of Bethalto is running in the Democratic primary election March 19 for State Representative from the 56th Legislative District.

She doesn't have the lug. She doesn't have a personal fortune. She doesn't have wealthy supporters. Carmen has been an Independent Democrat all her life, and big money doesn't come to the Independents—big money goes to the Dependents.

But Carmen does have friends helping her. Holly Hobbie drew the young woman dragging the democratic donkey to Springfield to symbolize Carmen's campaign. Holly's an artist—maybe you're not. But you can volunteer your time and money. Now.

We need to spread the word that Carmen is the best Representative the people of the 56th District can choose. And this costs money; the grassroots contributions of many can and political control by a few.

What does Carmen stand for?

She supports strong ethics legislation; open campaign financing; legislative reforms and an end to cumulative voting; equal rights; full time representation. And more.

Don't put it off. Mail (tax-deductible) contributions to Citizens for Carmen Deist Kerr, c/o R. Kepner, 327 Clay, Edw., Ill. 62025 or call 656-1287 or 656-2832.

Nameoki road budget higher

A $99,900 tentative road and bridge budget has been posted by Nameoki Township and will be the subject of a public hearing at 7 p.m. Tuesday, March 26.

The tentative budget is $20,500 higher than the 1973-74 fiscal year budget and is $2,500 higher than the total road and bridge fund last year after the budget was amended to include $17,200 in federal revenue sharing.

Township officials say they plan to include all revenue sharing expenditures in the town fund during the 1974-75 year, rather than appropriating a portion in the road and bridge fund.

Also posted is a budget for the permanent hard road fund which calls for expenditure of $70,800, up $2,500 from last year's permanent hard road fund budget of $68,300. After $32,800 in revenue sharing was added last year, a total of $101,300 actually was available from that fund in the 1973-74 fiscal year.

Illinois Municipal Retirement was increased by $5,000 in the tentative budget to $7,300 in the tentative new budget.

Revenue sharing was not added to that fund last year.

In the 1973-74 budget, Nameoki Township appropriated $20,000 from revenue sharing and $10,000 from a special bridge construction fund to pay its half of the cost of a new State Park bridge. Madison County is to pay an equal sum. The bridge cost was estimated at $60,000.

The final bill for construction of the concrete bridge was nearly $80,000 and the township's share exceeds $39,700. Although they could pay the remainder of the bill over several years, the township's budget committee agreed to include $10,000 in the bridge fund for the 1974-75 fiscal year to complete the township's payments.

Specific totals from the road and bridge fund in the tentative budget call for $37,500 to be spent for maintenance of roads, up from $27,700 the previous year but below the $41,300 available last year after revenue sharing was added.

Appropriated for maintenance of culverts and bridges is $16,800, up from $16,500 last year. No revenue sharing was appropriated for this purpose in the previous document.

Repairs to machinery will cost $6,000 in the 1974-75 year, up from $5,000 in the previous budget. Last year the figure was $4,000 after revenue sharing was added to last year's budget.

No funds have been provided for construction and maintenance of buildings in the new budget. Last year $1,400 was provided for that purpose. In the tentative document, however, $7,500 was earmarked for drainage. The same amount was appropriated for drainage under a special road drainage category last year.

The drainage money is to be spent under an agreement with Granite City for the total expenditure of $15,000 for installation of larger culverts along Route 203 north of Granite City.

The state, which is improving the highway, was to install drainage tiles large enough to carry only drainage from the road. Granite City and Nameoki Township agreed to pay the extra cost of the larger tiles and for the privilege of using the tiles to remove surface drainage from parts of the city and township east of the highway, including drainage from

The money was appropriated by the township several years ago and taxes for the work were levied at that time. Township officials explained inclusion of the $7,500 township share in the new budget is a carry over and will not cost the taxpayers any more when new taxes are collected.

For administration, the new budget appropriates $19,700, up from $13,500 in the previous budget. Last year the figure was increased to $13,750 after $200 of revenue sharing was added for the printing of legal notices concerning revenue sharing expenditures.

A $3,000 provision for contingencies is appropriated in the tentative budget, up slightly from $3,750 last year. No revenue sharing funds were provided for this purpose in the 1973-74 year.

Economy without cramps.

Buying a compact car with a six-cylinder engine can make a lot of room in your budget. If that compact car is an economical 1974 Chevy Nova 6, you'll also end up with a lot of room in your car.

"Automotive Industries' Roominess Index" says no domestic compact at any price has more head and shoulder room, front and rear, than Nova. The roomy, economical Nova 6 comes in three versatile models.

The 2-Door Nova. The Chevy Nova basic transportation system. Few cars make as much sense as this one. It's small enough on the outside to be easy to park and drive, yet has enough room on the inside for six passengers.

And it's as good-looking as it is sensible. The base price for this standard 2-door coupe (shown at left) is $2647.

The 4-Door Nova

The Nova's rear seat is so roomy and comfortable some people like to get to it fast. The four-door version of the Nova 6 makes this easy. From this point on, the rear seat passengers are carried economically to their destination by Nova's proven six-cylinder engine. Just like passengers in other Nova models. You'll like Nova's sporty good looks, and like other Nova models, the four-door has traditionally maintained a high resale value.

The 3-Door Nova. You can carry people around comfortably in any economical Nova 6. The Hatchback Nova 6 lets you carry lots of things around comfortably. Open the rear hatch, fold down the rear seat, and you'll have nearly six feet of flat load space. Almost like having a wagon. Six flat feet are just what you need on grocery shopping or moving days. Right?

Chevrolet has been building and refining the Nova for thirteen years now, and this year, the Nova seems to make more sense than ever. It's the car with the room you want, and the economy you need.

Economy without cramps. That's the 1974 Chevrolet Nova 6. CHEVROLET MAKES SENSE FOR AMERICA.

Future Secretaries plan events

Pointers for being a professional secretary were given members of the Granite City High School Future Secretaries Association at a meeting held at GCHS-North, when the featured speaker was Mrs. Gail Foley, director of the Patricia Stevens Secretarial School.

Mrs. Foley noted that some of the things a secretary can learn from experience, and not in the classroom, include: (1) admitting when you have made a mistake, apologizing, and then making sure you don't make the same mistake again—under no circumstances, attempt to make excuses or pass the buck, (2) working on a clean desk, with only the material necessary for the job at hand and everything else out of sight, as this helps you to work faster and more efficiently, and (3) the impression that the secretary's voice over the phone and her personal appearance makes on potential customers.

The talk was followed by a question and answer session, including specific details about tuition at the secretarial school, living accommodations, and other points. Mrs. Foley is a certified professional secretary, and also a member of the Tri-Cities Chapter, National Secretaries Association.

The meeting was presided over by Vice-President Barb Siebert in the absence of President Sharon Mang. Plans for future meetings were announced. A skit by FSA members, entitled "The Do's and Don'ts of the Beginning Secretary" will be presented at the meeting in March. Also in March, FSA members along with NSA members, will comprise most of the audience for the 3 p.m. taping of the Regis Philbin Show on Saturday, March 30.

Many events are planned for FSA participation in the yearly observance of Secretaries Week. A trip to a television station will be made after school on Tuesday, April 2, and the group will be personally conducted on a tour of the studios by Max Roby, television news commentator.

Again this year, Diane Daugherty and her Civic Committee arranged for a party during February for the residents of the Madison County Sheltered Care Home. Over a dozen FSA members joined with three NSA members and former Boss of the Year, Larry Sidener, president of Sidener Supply Co., for a trip to the Home.

Handkerchiefs, valentines, and candy suckers were distributed to each resident, and they all joined in playing games. All participants eventually won prizes.

The FSA year concludes in May when the members join with NSA members at a banquet at Charlie's Restaurant on Thursday, May 2. At that time, the Miss FSA Award, which is accompanied by a check for $50 is presented to the senior girl who has earned the most points through participating in chapter events.

In addition, a Junior FSA Award is given to the junior who has earned the most points.

Activities during the day will include demonstrations in karate, fencing and archery, a full-length major motion picture, a record hop and concerts by bands in the area.

Workshops also will be held on such topics as intercollegiate athletics, alcohol and drugs, and astrology.

Various agencies throughout this region also will have booths set up in the center to give young people information on what is available to them in their communities.

Some of the agencies are: The St. Louis Business Institute, the Bailey Technical School, Illinois

State Employment Office, Illinois Department of Public Health and American School of Broadcasting.

Oeschmann, 3021 Myrtle Ave., has completed an eight-week small arms repair course at the U.S. Army Ordnance Center and School, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md. MOST OF THE OFFICE MACHINES (about 95 per cent) at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville are maintained and repaired by the SIUE Office Machines Repair Service at an annual cost of approximately $39,000. The remaining 15 per cent of the University's more than $1 million worth of office machines are serviced through outside leases and contracts which cost SIUE $30,000 annually. Bill Lauck of Alton, an SIUE serviceman, is shown adjusting an electric typewriter in the SIUE personnel office for Carol Frey of Granite City, a student worker and a sophomore in business at SIUE.

Beware phony home repair 'inspectors'

An 81-year-old farmer, retired to a little country town, to most people, he's a pastoral symbol, a patriarch.

To a couple of dozen people once more playing their trade in Illinois, he's just another pigeon. They recently plucked him for more than $500 in seven weeks.

Just like they took the elderly woman living alone in a shabby house with no electricity, no phone, no furnace, with her husband a permanent patient in a veterans' hospital. They took nearly everything she had, and came back for more. They only left when she called a neighbor's, for advice.

The gimmick? The old, tried-and-true lightning rod installation bit.

Robert, Myers, an investigator in the Consumer Fraud Division of the office of Illinois Attorney General William Scott, said the case of the 81-year-old farmer typifies how they work.

First, they got the old man to agree to pay $300 for their job—his first mistake, since a legitimate operator could install lightning rods on a big barn for $150 to $175, Myers said.

Next, they returned a couple of weeks later saying they needed to do more work and needed another $1,260.

Getting that, they returned again in a few days. This time, they said they would replace the original wire with a better grade and generally do a better job for another $85.

By the time that check got to the bank, it had somehow become a check for $3,650, which a friendly teller cashed, even though it meant transferring money from the old man's savings account.

The end result—a shoddily installed lightning rod for a sick old man, and a neat income of $5,210 for a couple of fast talkers who see the venerable only as the vulnerable.

Nearly all their $5,210 is pure profit, according to George M. Schafer, who heads up the Downstate consumer fraud division in Scott's office. The wire that they sell for $9 and more a foot, anybody can buy for 20 cents a foot.

Myers said the attorney general's office received about 25 complaints on the perennial racket in the last three years, but thinks there are ten times that many victimized.

Participate in Army exercise

Army Private Edward C. Keel, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Keel, 1812 Bremen Ave., and Sgt. Arthur H. Berghahn, husband of Mrs. Karen Berghahn, 2715 W. 22nd St., participated with some 20,000 American and German soldiers in exercise Gordan Knot in Central Germany.

The five-day exercise, directed by Major General Jonathan R. Burton, 3rd armored division commander, provided German and American forces opportunities to develop small unit tactics.

Broken into two major forces, the 3rd Armored Division supported by the U.S. Air Forces 17th Tactical Fighter Wing, formed the friendly Blue Force while the 6th Panzer Brigade and elements of the 11th Armored Cavalry supported by the German Air Force comprised the aggressor Orange Force.

Pvt. Keel is a gunner in Company B, 1st Battalion of the division's 33rd Armor in Gelnhausen.

Sgt. Berghahn is a medical noncommissioned officer in Headquarters Company of the 22d Armor's 1st Battalion in Friedberg.

Most people are just too embarrassed to admit they've been taken, he feels.

They shouldn't be, Schafer says. While victims in many class swindles must have a bit of greed of their own for the trick to work, the lightning rod victims are just honest people who've been swindled. Unfortunately, they are usually the elderly, the sick, the alone.

Myers estimates about 20 people are making a nice living from the racket in Illinois, apparently skipping across state borders as soon as the check is cashed.

They appear to have some loose-knit alliance, trading names and prospects for an extra squeeze. But there is no honor among these thieves; they've been known to take one another's license plates and use another's names for protection.

Caught, they could be prosecuted for theft by deception, obtaining money under false pretenses, in some cases forgery, and other crimes.

Like the common cold, the phony lightning rod salesmen strike all year. Now, Schafer's office is bracing for the spring onslaught of people practicing seasonal rackets—"cheap" prices for painting the barn or asphaltting the driveway.

The unvary will end up with a paint job that washes off in the first rain, or a thin, third-rate asphalt job at far more than first-rate prices.

Schafer and Myers urge anyone thinking of home improvements to use the old show business adage—"Don't call me, I'll call you."

Don't make snap decisions, they say. Don't panic when the "inspector" comes down off the roof with a piece of burned wire and says he doesn't know why the house "didn't burn around your ears after a strike like that."

Don't panic, because he took that piece of burned wire up with him in the first place.

Shop around, they recommend, and ask questions. Then, deal with a local dealer you know.

There may be "one born every minute", but you don't have to be one of them, the state emphasizes.

Kinder Uniwah Scout camp-o-ree chairman

Norman H. Kinder, local attorney, will be the Uniwah (Quad-City) district camp-o-ree chairman for the May 17, 18 and 19 event at Beaver Dam State Park, Plainville, Ill. It was announced today by W. F. "Mick" Strange, district camping chairman.

Kinder, a member of the Cahokia Mound Council executive board, as a boy was active in Pack, Troop and Post 21 sponsored by the First Presbyterian Church of Madison.

The camp-o-ree will be based on strictly patrol operations and the Scouts will be judged throughout the weekend on how well their patrols function. Cooking and camping will be done on a patrol basis and various skill events also will emphasize patrol operation.

Local leadership corps members from the various troops will be used to help judge and supervise the patrol events and fun activities.

Scoutmasters are being encouraged to hold their own "mini-camp-o-ree" before May to let their patrols further practice cooking and camping skills.

Beaver Dam State Park was suggested as the site by many Scout leaders in the area who participated in a weekend event there three years ago.

Park Ranger Richard Berner said, "We are more than happy to have the Scouts from the Quad-City area spend a weekend at the park. We have an excellent location, that they used here before and we will reserve it for their exclusive use during that weekend."

HURT IN ACCIDENT

The autos of Beverly Seybert, 2421 Iowa St., and David Moser, 2004 Lindell Blvd., collided at Wabash Avenue and Johnson Road at 7:40 p.m. Sunday. Carol Moser, 36, of 2004 Lindell Ave., was injured when her head struck the windshield of the Seybert auto. She underwent X-rays and was released from St. Elizabeth Hospital.

THEFT FROM GRIGSBY

Two speakers were stolen from Grigsby Junior High School after two windows were broken to gain entry. Broken windows were in the library and in room 504. The speakers were removed from wooden cabinets which were left in the school.

Smith firm active in expanding oil supply

An obvious need for the world to develop additional sources of crude oil, expand existing sources and optimize transportation systems has prompted the Meter Systems division of A. O. Smith Corp. to establish new fabrication and test facilities at the Port of Catonsville complex at Tulsa, Okla.

Dramatically increased value of petroleum products has demanded better control plus additional and more accurate metering, according to W. L. Thompson, vice president and general manager of the Erie, Pa., based division.

With an international reputation for accurate and reliable metering of petroleum products, the division has experienced heavy demands on its capabilities for the engineering and manufacturing of integrated systems, Thompson said.

A growing trend toward going outside their own organizations for engineering know-how in specialized areas, such as flow measurement, has developed recently and rapidly within the ranks of international petroleum operations.

By assigning the engineering, manufacturing and installation tasks to one qualified supplier, final performance responsibility can be unequivocally established, the division spokesman said.

When ocean-going tankers take on crude, the meter proving, air elimination, flow control, flow registration, temperature compensation, data acquisition, computer operation and automated measuring at rates of 42,000 barrels or 1,764,000 gallons per hour.

Strainers, valves and electronic components will continue to be engineered and manufactured in Erie and then shipped to Tulsa for final assembly with the necessary support frames, probes, block valves and piping.

A 300-ton-capacity crane then loads the completed units on barges for direct waterway passage to the Gulf of Mexico. The vast size and weight of the packaged systems—ranging up to 800,000 pounds each—made their ground transportation from the Erie plant to that city's port facility somewhat impractical. In addition, weather conditions close down the port operation there for as long as four months during the winter season.

'Family living' is goal for children

Programs designed to prevent family breakdowns and to encourage family living for troubled children are the major objectives of the Department of Children and Family Services in fiscal 1974-75, Jerome G. Miller, director, announced Tuesday.

"We want to step up our programs that will keep children out of the placement system. We can do this through community based services that can reach into homes," Miller said.

The department is seeking an appropriation of $89,497,800, an increase of $2,068,600 over 1973-74.

In addition, the department will benefit from an additional $1,755,000 in non-appropriated federal funds (up to $15,011,500) for a total budget increase of 4.4 per cent over fiscal 1974.

"There are many troubled children who have to be institutionalized. But we believe there are many who do not. In the past, too many have been institutionalized, where they became forgotten people," Dr. Miller said.

Gov. Dan Walker said counseling, homemaker service, day care programs, alternative schools and rapid deployment of "big brother" type advocate programs will receive increased support in fiscal 1975.

The year's objectives include:

Development of new day care programs and alternative schools for school age youngsters to avoid placement of 600 children in foster homes or institutions.

Retaining the present level of funding of day care centers serving children in low-income families despite uncertainty over federal reimbursement.

An increase in fees and benefits for foster parents who care for dependent and neglected children. "Foster parents are the backbone of any child welfare agency and should be compensated more fairly for their dedicated service to children," Dr. Miller said.

The department intends to allocate $1.5 million for increased benefits to foster parents.

A primary goal is to have foster parents help children return to their natural family within 90 days after the department enters the case, or assist in developing a long-range plan for the child's future.

The department expects to allocate $750,000 for care and treatment of youths committed to the department by the courts as in "need of supervision" who would otherwise be referred to correctional institutions.

About two-thirds of the 24,000 children under the department's care are living outside their family homes. The state will continue its efforts to utilize placement settings that most closely approximate a home.

Miller explained that the department will have reduced the number of children in institutions by 25 per cent at the end of fiscal 1974. He anticipates another 20 per cent reduction in fiscal 1975.

The department would continue to utilize institutional treatment centers for deeply troubled youngsters who cannot adjust to an open setting.

The governor has also pledged continuation of current department priorities, citing "major accomplishments during 1973, including a dramatic reduction in the number of dependent Illinois children cared for in out-of-state institutions."

Only 238 children, many of whom have serious physical or mental handicaps, remain in out-of-state facilities. There were nearly 800 youngsters under department guardianship in out-of-state institutions when Gov. Walker took office. Three-fourths of the youngsters were in Texas.

Miller said about 60 per cent of the children returned from confinement in Texas institutions have been able to return to their own families or have been placed in foster homes with the department furnishing supportive services. Other priorities outlined include:

Emphasis on individualized case planning for every child under department care.

The governor said the agency will no longer permit children to "drift" in tax-supported foster care year after year.

Instead, he said, time-limited goals are being set for each youngster—either to return to his own home, to be placed in adoption, or to be served in a substitute family setting that meets his physical and psychological needs.

Continuation of a system of review and evaluation of institutions providing care for dependent and neglected children.

Walker said the department has completed reviews of a fourth of the 129 private institutions from whom DCFS purchasers care for youngsters.

Reviewers spend several days at each facility evaluating the physical plant, staffing, educational and recreational services, social service programs and medical care. The review team also evaluates the institution's performance in guaranteeing equal opportunity for minorities.

Development of a community-based child welfare service system.

Key to the plan is establishment of small "outposts" in metropolitan neighborhoods and small communities with teams of social workers, paraprofessionals and volunteers working closely with other community agencies.

Walker said the reorganization undertaken by the department to initiate the new approach resulted in elimination of numerous middle management positions and deployment of more workers to provide direct services to children and families.

The trend toward a higher proportion of direct service workers compared to administrative personnel will continue, he said.

Achievement of greater citizen involvement in the work of the agency.

Walker said the department has held about a dozen "public forums"—old-fashioned town meetings—in large and small communities in the past six months.

Twice that number are planned for 1974.

Miller said the meetings, somewhat similar to the governor's accountability sessions, give taxpayers a greater voice in development of agency goals and services.

Creation of an aggressive child advocacy role for the agency. Ombudsmen now respond to complaints or concerns expressed by children, foster parents or families served by the agency.

There are now 15 persons functioning in guardianship roles compared to only two at the beginning of 1973.

This permits the guardian to have greater familiarity with each case and serve as a true advocate for the child. Among other things, "the governor said, "the guardians assure legal help for children whose civil rights were often overlooked in the past."

Utilization of volunteers in the agency's service programs. The governor said the agency seeks a one-third increase in volunteer service hours in the fiscal year ending next June. Current projections are that the goal of 115,000 donated hours will be eclipsed.

Implementation of plans to respond to an increasing number of child abuse reports.

Reporting of child abuse cases in the Chicago area is new. Walker said, because of installation of a child abuse "hotline."

Supplemental funds earmarked for experimentation in child abuse intervention have been awarded to 10 of the department's 18 administrative areas. These areas show a high incidence of child abuse and have mobilized community support to attack the problem.

Promotion of adoptions to insure permanent homes for children. The governor explained that most adoptable children under state care are older youngsters. Many are of minority groups. Some have physical limitations.

Nevertheless, Walker said, he is convinced that aggressive recruitment, including featuring adoptable children in special newspaper and television campaigns, can aid in finding permanent homes.

Miller said foster parents are being encouraged to consider adoption of legally free children under their care.

During 1973, the department achieved a 64 per cent increase in subsidized adoptions, permanent family unions made possible through financial help from the state, he added.

Besides administering the state child welfare program, the department operates residential schools for the blind, deaf and crippled youngsters as well as programs for aged and visually handicapped adults.

Expand state business development activities

Gov. Dan Walker's fiscal 1974-75 budget for the Department of Business and Economic Development, newly outlined, lists as top goals:

—To encourage Illinois residents to "see Illinois first," which coincides with limits on vacation travel imposed by the nationwide energy problems.

—To encourage Illinois firms which are planning expansion to locate such expanded facilities in Illinois; and —To expand efforts to increase foreign purchases of Illinois products.

The budget was detailed this week by Director Howard R. Fricke. It calls for appropriations of $4,772,000, a decrease of $71,700 or 1.5 per cent from 1973-74.

Fricke said, "Tourism is a vital industry to Illinois — through the jobs it creates and the money it brings."

"We will encourage Illinoisans to 'see Illinois first' and will work with developers to create tourism facilities within the state."

"In cooperation with public transportation companies, we will promote tours of Illinois and work closely with the Department of Conservation to promote the state's recreational and scenic facilities." Specific goals are:

1. Accommodating 11,800,000 visitors to Illinois tourism attractions with expenditures of $1,800,000,000 as compared with $1,600,000,000 spent in fiscal 1974.

2. Launching a new program to spend $100,000 on in-state advertising to make Illinoisans aware of Illinois tourism facilities.

3. Providing $174,000 of matching funds and increased technical assistance to regional tourism groups to promote local tourism attractions. The matching funds compare to $117,200 of funds anticipated to be spent this year.

Director Fricke said department efforts to develop industries will expand next year. He commented:

"In this year of economic uncertainty, we must do everything we can to insure that Illinois firms planning expansion do so in the state. We intend not only to keep current jobs in Illinois but to bring new jobs."

The department will give companies with potential for expansion the assistance to locate an expanded facility in Illinois.

A major goal will be to provide an ombudsman service to business in Illinois to "help overcome bureaucratic roadblocks which impede business development." Efforts also will be made to inform and assist Illinois firms in pursuing federal and state purchasing programs.

Special efforts will concentrate on attracting to Illinois foreign businesses planning to locate in the U.S.

Business expansion objectives include:

1. Providing location assistance to 265 businesses, an increase of 35 over fiscal 1974.

2. Providing 250 Illinois businesses with technical assistance in foreign trade, an increase of 73.

3. Providing 800 foreign companies with information and assistance in trade with Illinois businesses, an increase of 45 per cent.

4. Helping 50 Illinois firms participate in eight foreign trade shows and missions, an increase from 46 businesses.

"Illinois is the leading export state in the nation," he noted. The $5 billion of Illinois manufactured and agricultural exports means that 360,000 Illinois workers derive their income from international sales.

"Add to this the workers whose employment is partially related to supporting exports and the number of jobs zooms upward to one million. Twenty per cent of our state's workers rely directly or partially on international trade for their livelihood.

"We will help Illinois firms seek out marketing opportunities in foreign commerce and develop and maintain competitive transportation rates. We will promote the seaport of Chicago and our river ports to the maritime industry."

"Integral parts of this effort are our offices in Brussels and Hong Kong. In addition, we will explore the feasibility of establishing offices elsewhere."

Fricke said his staff will be sponsoring and coordinating a series of industrial revenue bond financing seminars throughout the state. The department was directly involved in plant locations totaling over $3.3 million financed through industrial revenue bonds in 1973-74.

Joint buying urged, planning stressed

The Illinois Department of Local Government Affairs will step up its efforts to help local governments establish joint purchasing procedures to save money at the local level as part of the department's program for fiscal 1974-75.

Frank Kirk, director of the department, said this week he is seeking a budget increase of $1,747,200 in the next year to carry out his objectives. The department budget request is $111,653,300, or $275,000 less than it was two years ago.

Kirk said, "Our job is to help local governments. And we can help in many ways. Communities can enter joint bids for chemicals, for example, and take advantage of bulk prices."

"The department has the expertise to help local governments obtain federal funds. Many communities could get more federal aid. But some are not aware of what is available and others don't know how to get it."

The department also will develop special services for energy conservation.

Smaller communities will benefit from a program to provide technical assistance tailored to the needs of rural areas, he said.

Called the Small Community Improvement Pilot Program, it will provide professional assistance and practical publications to local-level officials.

In cooperation with the Department of Transportation, LGA will develop an experimental rural public transportation plan.

The department will attempt to set up a series of regional, non-binding planning organizations and has set its objective for 1973 plans to create eight new regional planning organizations.

The department hopes to involve all of the state's 102 counties in regional planning efforts by the end of the fiscal year.

Problems that will be addressed by the regional planning groups include flood plain management, law enforcement and environmental protection, Kirk said.

The department assists the state's 118 local housing authorities in planning and developing needed low income housing. Federal emphasis in developing the supply of public housing has shifted from production of low income housing units to the use of leased housing.

An experimental housing allowance program in Peoria, assisted by the department, is being studied nationally. More than 900 families have been served there.

Dividend up

Post Corporation's board of directors has declared a regular quarterly dividend of 14 cents per share payable March 29 to shareholders of record March 15.

This represents a two-cent increase over the 12 cents per share paid since June 29, 1973, and a 20 per cent increase in the indicated annual rate.

The board scaled down its budget estimate of earnings for the year due to estimated first-quarter lower earnings, though results for the year are expected to show some improvement over 1973.

ANSWER 2 ALARMS

Sewers not near reality—Thoeke

Warnings against over-optimism concerning the proposed Four Township Sewer Program becoming a reality in 1975 were voiced this week by William Thoeke, candidate for Madison County Board from District 16, and by Bob Wydra, coordinator of water resource programs for the Southwestern Illinois Metropolitan Area Planning Commission (SIMAPC).

Wydra said even though there are several obstacles to overcome before the sewers are in the ground, "there is definite progress being made and there is room for some optimism."

Thoeke agreed that progress is being made, but said a state priority number of 171 which indicates the project may receive a grant next year applies only to the interceptor sewers and that a much higher number has been assigned the project for construction of collector sewers.

"It is a possibility we could see the interceptor sewers in the ground next year but not be able to connect to them because we would not have collector sewers," Thoeke said.

"While our priority number for interceptor sewers was reduced this year from 376 to 171, the number for the collectors actually was increased from 562 to 644," he said.

Priority numbers for projects are assigned by the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency with lowest numbers being given the first available grants. The state has indicated it plans to fund grant applications with priority numbers up to 125 this fiscal year, which ends in June.

Townships have been assured that new applications will not "bump" existing applications awaiting grants. Formerly projects considered more important than those for which grant applications had already been filed were assigned higher priority numbers than applications which already had been assigned numbers.

Despite the new regulations prohibiting "bumping," Wydra said a low priority number for next year was far from a certainty.

"The priority system has been changed every year and I would be surprised if it was not changed again next year," the planner said.

He said even if the system should change, the chances of the interceptors here being funded next year are good, but hopes of funding the collectors through the Illinois EPA next year are slim.

"This does not mean the collectors have to wait several years," he said. "There are possibilities of funding the collectors from other sources than the Illinois EPA. The governor still has money available from the state's $750 million anti-pollution bond program and the Farm and Home Administration (FHA) has a new loan program for rural areas. Many other options are open," Wydra said.

He added, "There is a little more red tape for the program this year than last year, so some more paperwork will have to be done before the project is funded."

He said optimism is a good thing to have at this time. "The townships must look at the project as coming soon if they are going to be ready when the grant is. Readiness is one of the main factors in whether or not you get a grant.

"The townships must have the local share of the funds raised and available before the grant can be approved and many projects have been passed over because they were not ready," Wydra warned.

He cautioned that projects passed over in this fiscal year may be put ahead of the Four Township interceptor program in priority in the next fiscal year, but should not seriously affect the chances of funding in the 1974-75 fiscal year.

What's-his-name presents the Whatchamacallhim Contest.

We can't go on calling him The Illini Federal Elephant forever. It's awfully hard to say. Besides, it's not exactly personal.

To be a people, he has to have a name.

Bill or Bob or Ted or something. That's where you come in.

Name him and you might be a winner.

Ben George
Joe Bill Jim
Joy Vince

Dave Karen Fred Linda
Brad Sam Dick Gene
Harold Don Bruce Allen
Curt Stan Ken John

What's in a name?

$1,000 "Trunk of Gold" Savings Certificate.

We want a first name or last name or both that looks just right, sounds just right and fits the Illini Elephant to a tee. That will be his official name from now on. And, if you're the official namer, you'll be duly rewarded with a large supply of our primary product—Money! We'll award you a one-year, $1,000 Illini Federal Savings Certificate. At 6 1/2% interest, compounded daily, it'll be worth $1,067.15 when it matures.

4-$200 "Golden Peanut" Passbooks.

Four almost-best names will be chosen. And at Illini almost-best is good enough to win you a cache of cash. We'll stash $200 away in your name and present you with the passbook. You can add to or withdraw from it anytime. It will grow by leaps of 5 1/4% annually as long as it's on deposit.

25 Pachyderm Porters.

There'll be 30 finalists in all. Besides the five who will be in the money, 25 will be on the table. The elephant table, that is. Perky pachyderms hand-woven of natural rattan. They're perfect for porting peanuts, drinks, ashtrays and generally brightening up any room or patio.

Name him now.

The Whatchamacallhim contest ends midnight Saturday, March 30, 1974. So fill out the entry blank below and bring it or mail it to any Illini Federal office right away. If you're a real name-dropper, enter a bunch of names. Just pick up extra entry blanks at Illini or copy all the information onto a 3" x 5" piece of paper. Then sit back and wait. If you're a winner, you'll hear the elephant trumpeting all the way to your house.

Charter issued to Sternberg company

A charter has been issued by the state to Sternberg Equipment Co., 1609 Delmar Ave., by Michael J. Howlett, secretary of state.

The charter lists G. H. Sternberg, 2622 Delmar Ave., as president, with Arthur Roseman, 2120 Richmond Ave., as secretary.

Stated capital is $50,000. The firm is to "Deal in heavy machinery and equipment generally used in the construction trades," Howlett said.

A statement of intent to dissolve as corporation was received by the state from Maryland Real Estate & Insurance Agency, Inc., 2106 Pontoon Road, Howlett reported.

ERRONEOUS ADDRESS

William Owens, 24, who was arrested last week on a charge of illegal possession of a hypodermic syringe, does not reside at 4944 Redwood Lane, residents there said this week.

Local GC tax collection urged

A proposal that Granite City conduct its own local tax collection this year was advanced by the City Council in regular meeting Monday night.

Acting on a suggestion by Mayor Paul Schuler that the city "seriously consider" such a plan, the council referred the matter to its Finance Committee, headed by Alderman Gerald Parmley. The committee is to study the program, prepare estimated costs, and report to the council in its March 18 meeting.

The mayor said one of the principal reasons for collecting taxes locally, rather than depend upon collection by the county, would be an early distribution of tax money at the discretion of the city treasurer who is the ex-officio township collector.

Mayor Schuler said the cost of a local collection would be borne by the township. He suggested a plan be finalized so that the council could act on the matter March 18 when it convenes in its regular town board meeting. The aldermen also constitutes the Granite City

Town Board.

Tax collections for Granite City residents have been conducted during the past two years by the Madison County treasurer's office because the 1970 Illinois Constitution eliminated salary payments by fees and failed to provide any other method of paying township collectors.

Paul Rutledge, city treasurer, told the council that in prior years when his office was responsible for collecting taxes, the cost of the operation "ran about $23,000." But, he said, he has no idea how much work would be required this year, or how many employees he would need to hire until he can study the extent of work involved.

Parmley said he had discussed the tax problem with County Treasurer George Musso, but that Musso could give Parmley no indication as to when the city might expect its first distribution of taxes if they are collected by the county this year. Parmley said also that Musso indicated collections may begin early this year, possibly around May 1. Tax collections customarily begin in June.

"Our tax money was slow coming to us from the county last year," Schuler said. "If we collect the taxes ourselves, we can depend upon an early distribution. I'm sure that the school district (Granite City district 9) is in the same shape and will want its taxes early just as we do."

The city is facing serious financial problems and would have been unable to meet its February claims and payroll Monday night if it had not received a $100,000 allocation of federal funds Monday morning. Early tax receipts will be necessary this year if the city is to avoid payless paydays, finance officials say.

The council Monday night also approved on final passage an ordinance directing payment of all fees collected by city departments to the general fund and providing for payment of fees for rabies shots paid the humane department by persons who redeem dogs that were picked up by the department. The ordinance provides a cash fund of $50 for the street department and the humane department to be used by the humane officers as change when collecting fees for rabies shots, and by the street department for minor emergency purchases.

Money collected at the Animal shelter where dog owners must pay a $5 fee for rabies inoculation to redeem their dogs shall be deposited with the city. The ordinance provides that the dog must be given its shots within four days of paying the fee and that the veterinarian then shall bill the city for giving the shots.

The ordinance provides a penalty of a fine of not less than $10 nor more than $25 for violation.

Council members also concurred in a recommendation by the Board of Fire and Police Commissioners that three firemen be given the rank of pipemen because they have completed their probationary periods. They are Keith Talley, Carl Kalkreuter and Robert Dawes.

RAILROAD SUED

William Gruetzemacher has filed a $100,000 suit in Madison County Circuit Court against the Illinois Central Railroad, alleging that on Jan. 2 as he was crossing railroad tracks across Route 143 near Route 4, his car and a locomotive collided, the impact throwing him from the car and causing him to be injured. He alleged the signals were not operating and his view was obscured.

SUES TRANSIT FIRM

Sharon L. Serini has filed a $25,000 suit in Madison County Circuit Court against Bi-State Transit Co. She alleges that on Jan. 15 she was driving her auto south on Madison Avenue at 27th Street and was involved in a collision with a bus, causing her to be injured.
